

Why Did Mac Do It? That's Big Question

Was It Sacrifice To Save America From Red Menace?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—(AP)—Behind the national sadness and angry controversy over the dismissal of Douglas MacArthur there is a great question mark.

Did this great general of the army deliberately sound taps on his own splendid military career. Was he only taking a "calculated risk" in repeatedly defying Washington, or was he trying to provoke his dismissal to dramatize to the American people his own strongly held views on the world's political and military danger?

This question today is in the minds of many who know the general and know his past. But the secret is locked behind his own sturdy cornucop pipe.

WHY DID "MAC" DO IT? Why at the age of 71 did this lifelong soldier violate the first principle of the soldier's trade—unquestioning obedience to his superior officers?

Only MacArthur himself knows the answer. But the record clearly shows that the general twice disobeyed an order by President Truman to clear all statements on military policy with the department of state before releasing them to the public.

HE CANNOT QUESTION the authority of the president to take the action he did. Had ex-artillery captain Harry Truman served under MacArthur in the first world war and twice disobeyed his orders it is likely Truman would have been court-martialed. MacArthur himself brooks no disobedience in his command.

Then why did "Mac" do it? Many are conjecturing as to his reasons.

THOSE WHO resent his flamboyant self-confidence say: He has been a great general, but he has developed a god complex. He thinks he knows all the answers. President Truman, Secretary of State Acheson, General Marshall, General Bradley and General Eisenhower all thought it was more important to send troops to Europe. But MacArthur thought it was more important to attack Red China now, even at the risk of starting a third world war. He tried to force the government into doing what he wanted, figuring the administration wouldn't dare fire him. He just stayed in the Orient too long.

BUT THOSE WHO feel he is a political as well as a military genius say:

"MacArthur had to fight a delaying war in the Pacific the last time because the European war zone had a priority in both men and weapons. Now he sees the same thing happening again. And he thinks if we don't join up with Chiang Kai-Shek now and beat Red China we will lose all Asia—and Europe, too. He stuck out his own neck to get the government to do the only thing he thinks can save America."

Senator McCarthy Blames 'Bourbon' For Mac's Firing

MILWAUKEE, (AP)—The Milwaukee Journal today quoted Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) as saying that "treason in the White House" has been accomplished by "bourbon and benedictine."

McCarthy asserted, according to the Journal, that the "treason" was accomplished by men who knew how "to get the president cheerful," and continued that the dismissal of Gen. MacArthur by the president is "a Communist victory won with the aid of bourbon and benedictine."

The Wisconsin senator, according to Journal reporter Robert Fleming, made the statements Wednesday night in a speech before nearly 600 members of the Wisconsin Retail Furniture Dealers association.

Fleming said that in an interview before the speech he asked McCarthy whether he believed that President Truman should be impeached. Fleming said McCarthy answered:

"The ——— should be impeached, but on the other hand he's not important. It's the crowd around him that causes the trouble."

Hold Dixon Hospital Patient, 23, for Murder

Ward Aid Says He Choked Boy To 'Quiet Him'

Will Recall Grand Jury; Chicagoan In County Lockup

A 23-year-old Dixon State hospital patient with the mentality of a six-year-old is being held in the county jail on a murder charge in the strangulation death of another patient early Wednesday.

Alex Lambersky, originally from Chicago, is held on a complaint signed by Fate LaRoy, Bloomington, father of Kenneth LaRoy, 9, allegedly strangled by Lambersky.

The April grand jury will be recalled to hear the evidence. No date for the recall has been set, however.

Jury Verdict
A coroner's jury meeting on the Lambersky will have an official arraignment today before Justice of the Peace Sterling W. Schrock. He can ask for a preliminary hearing or waive it. If the hearing is waived he will be bound over to the grand jury. The state's attorney said today that if Schrock agrees evidence against him is sufficient to indicate he killed the boy Lambersky will be held without bond.

state hospital grounds yesterday afternoon returned a verdict of "death by asphyxiation by choking at the hands of Alex Lambersky."

The verdict was returned despite testimony by Dr. John E. Maloney, Princeton, who said that he could not determine that the boy had died by application of exterior force to his throat since finger marks and scratches indicated not enough pressure was applied to strangle him. Dr. Maloney performed the post mortem. The jury was out only about seven minutes after Lambersky took the stand and admitted he choked the boy. He said he applied pressure on the boy's throat to make him keep quiet when he started screaming. When the LaRoy boy stopped moving Lambersky said he stood by the bed several minutes to see if he was alive.

Demonstrates Crime
On a request by State's Attorney Morey C. Pires Lambersky demonstrated how he choked the boy with his left hand while kneeling beside the bed.

Lambersky worked as a ward attendant in cottage A-12 where the killing took place. Dr. Alex Tarawski, state hospital physician, explained there were 177 other patients in the ward at the time of the killing. However, they are helpless and have to be cared for. Inmates with very low intelligence are assigned to menial duties which are scorned by more intelligent inmates, he said. Lambersky has the intelligence of a child five years and 10 months old.

Finger Treated

Albert Elmore, a hospital employee, who has charge of cottage A-12, said that about midnight Lambersky came to him with a cut finger. Lambersky told Elmore he had been trying to quiet

Loyalty Oath Law Upheld by Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The supreme court today unanimously ruled Maryland may require candidates for state and city offices to swear they are not engaged in any attempt to overthrow the government by force and violence.

The ruling upheld a requirement in a Maryland statute known as the Oler Loyalty law. The law requires a loyalty oath from the political candidates. It had been attacked by Thelma Gerende, of Baltimore, who sought to run for the Baltimore city council on the Progressive party ticket but refused to sign a loyalty oath.

Admits Slaying

ALEX LAMBERSKY, 23, Dixon State hospital inmate who yesterday admitted strangling nine-year-old Kenneth LaRoy, another inmate. At a coroner's inquest Wednesday Lambersky said, "I choked him to make him be quiet." The jury recommended that Lambersky be held to answer to the grand jury. A warrant charging him with murder was filed after the inquest. Lambersky is being held in the county jail.

Four Indicted In Jail Break Delay Pleas

Four Dixon residents indicted by the April grand jury on charges of assisting an escaped convict and a conspiracy to assist an escaped convict today asked additional time to enter pleas in circuit court.

Judge George C. Dixon set 10:30 a. m. next Thursday as the time for entering pleas. Under indictment are Donna Berogan, 18, former wife of Alfred Berogan, one of the escapees; Patricia Berogan, 18, sister of the convict; James Dullen, a friend of Patricia's and Robert Logan, 19.

The indictment alleges the four joined in a conspiracy to aid Berogan by transporting him through Dixon and outside the city limits Jan. 12, the night Berogan and Jerry Farmer, 22, Sterling, broke out of the Lee county jail.

Robert L. Bracken, attorney for all four, and Sterling W. Schrock, Mrs. Berogan's attorney, asked the continuance. All parties appeared in person. Their bonds of $1,000 each, $500 on each count were continued.

State's Attorney Morey C. Pires asked Mrs. Berogan what her true name is and she replied, "Donna Mae Moore." A divorce was granted her but the decree was filed after the return of the indictment April 9.

Kane Election Calls Attention To Local Issue

Chicago Tribune, April 11, 1951—Kane county voters will go to the polls today in a special primary to nominate candidates for the unexpired term of Charles G. Seidel, former state's attorney, who resigned to be elected county judge.

After Seidel's resignation, the county board appointed Richard C. Hamper, an assistant state's attorney, to fill the unexpired term. A group of Aurora citizens then brought a mandamus action to compel the board to call a special election.

The election will be held June 4, simultaneously with the judicial election.

Editor's Note—The foregoing item concerning a special primary and special election in neighboring Kane county is of special interest in Lee county because of a similar situation.

The Kane county primary and elections were held to fill the position of state's attorney, vacated because the Kane state's attorney was elected to another job. The state's attorney of Lee county, Morey C. Pires, is seeking another job and The Evening Telegraph has contended that should Pires be elected to the judgeship he seeks it will be necessary to hold elections which will cost about $8,000 in Lee county to fill the vacated state's attorney.

When delegates at the Lee County Republican Central committee nominating convention asked for information on this threatened special election Chairman H. C. Warner said he didn't know. Other answers were vague.

The law is plain and in event of Mr. Pires election as circuit judge there will be a special primary and a special election to fill his vacancy, at the expense of Lee county taxpayers.

AURORA, (AP)—John Friedland of Elgin was nominated as the Republican candidate for state's attorney of Kane county yesterday. He defeated the incumbent, Richard L. Hamper of Aurora, by a vote of 6,734 to 6,467. Third man on the ballot was John S. Petersen, Aurora, who polled 4,481 votes.

Truman Hopes New Red Drive Can Be Curbed

Goes on Air to Answer Critics, Review Policies

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Truman has pinned high hopes for peace and vindication for firing Gen. Douglas MacArthur—on the crushing of a threatened Communist spring offensive in Korea.

Mr. Truman told the nation in a radio and television talk last night that he relieved MacArthur of his Pacific commands because the five-star general disagrees with his policy aimed at preventing the Korean fighting from spreading into a world war.

"We do not want to see the conflict in Korea extended," the president said solemnly and firmly. "We are trying to prevent a world war—not to start one."

Would Involve Risk
Mr. Truman said that the bombing of Red bases in Manchuria and the use of Chinese Nationalist troops from Formosa—both advocated by MacArthur—would involve "a grave risk of starting a general war."

Then he made it clear he believes that if a threatened new mass offensive by the Communists in Korea is crushed, the Reds may decide that further aggression there or elsewhere is "folly." Then, he said, the door would be open to a peaceful settlement "which will not compromise the principle and purposes of the United Nations."

"Defeat of aggression in Korea may be the turning point in the world's search for a practical way of achieving peace and security," the president predicted.

Mac Ready to Come

In Tokyo, an advisor said MacArthur is preparing to return speedily to the United States and to make a stout defense of his views. Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway arrived in Tokyo from Korea today to take over.

His adviser, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, said MacArthur feels that his March 24 statement offering to meet the Communist commander in the field for peace talks and a letter to Rep. Joseph Martin, house Republican leader, "complicated meticulously with all directives he has received."

Within Authority
Both were mentioned in a White House memorandum as indications that MacArthur refused to comply with presidential orders. The letter to Martin endorsed use of Chinese Nationalist troops.

Whitney said MacArthur interpreted both as "dealing exclusively with the military situation and within the area of his uncontested authority to speak."

MacARTHUR SIDELIGHTS

CHICAGO—(AP)—The Chicago Daily News said today it learned that Gen. MacArthur will take a $100,000 a year job with Remington Rand, Inc., the typewriter and business equipment manufacturer.

NEW YORK—(AP)—More than 2,000 AFL Longshoremen walked off their Manhattan waterfront jobs temporarily today in protest against President Truman's ouster of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

They marched to a small park and roared approval to the text of a telegram to be sent to Mr. Truman asking him to restore MacArthur to his commands.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rep. Leonard W. Hall (R-NY) said today a check of public reaction received by 239 Republican senators and representatives on the Truman-MacArthur controversy showed:

(1) Telegrams received were 6,938 to 47 in favor of MacArthur.

(2) Telephone calls 1,481 to 0.

(3) Messages "asking for impeachment of the president," 5,178.

Hall said the check was made by the staff of the Republican congressional committee, at his request, between 4 and 5 p. m. Wednesday.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Western Union estimated today 75,000 telegrams have poured into Washington in connection with the firing of Gen. MacArthur. The White House said a majority of its share of the messages "is still in opposition" to President Truman's action.

The 75,000 estimate was by George Harris, Western Union superintendent.

"They're coming from all over, and they are still coming," Harris told a reporter.

Asked for comparison with "a normal day," Harris said wryly, "There are no normal days in Washington, but this is a tremendous number."

MILWAUKEE—(AP)—The blind Milwaukee attorney who nominated Gen. MacArthur for the presidency in 1948 today predicted voters of all parties would demand the election of Douglas MacArthur for president in 1952.

Absentee Voters Can Get Ballots For Two Elections

The office of the city clerk will be open until 5 p. m. Saturday to allow the casting of absentee ballots in next Tuesday's city election. City Clerk Wayne Smith announced today.

For the school election Saturday, absentee ballots may be had Thursday or Friday by applying at the Dixon high school office.

Pravda Has Little To Say on Firing

MOSCOW, (AP)—Pravda and other Soviet newspapers today printed the news of General MacArthur's dismissal briefly and without comment.

The Communist party organ ran the story on a back page under the headline: "Removal of MacArthur from position as supreme commander in chief in Far East."

'Mac' Ready To Resign When Fired?

CHICAGO, (AP)—Irv Kupcinet, Chicago Sun-Times columnist, said today "veteran Pentagon observers" believe Gen. MacArthur was about to resign when President Truman removed him.

He told a reporter his source was a "man in the military in the Pentagon" whose name he could not disclose.

Kupcinet, known as "Kup," said in his column Washington newsmen "had been alerted for a possible statement of far-reaching importance from Tokyo" prior to President Truman's announcement that MacArthur was fired.

Capital Buzzes

"Washington is buzzing with reports that President Truman beat Gen. MacArthur to the punch with his midnight firing of the hero-general," Kup declared. "Veteran Pentagon observers believe MacArthur was getting ready to announce his resignation with a dramatic statement."

"In fact, Washington newsmen, prior to the president's midnight news conference, had been alerted for a possible statement of far reaching importance from Tokyo. These observers, in reconstructing the story, believe MacArthur knew his goose was cooked in Washington by his answer to Army Sec. Frank Pace, who delivered a 'fall in line—or else' ultimatum, and was prepared to step down."

AP Has No Facts

The Washington bureau of the Associated Press reported it was unable to establish any facts bearing out the columnist's report.

A similar story was broadcast last night by Morgan Beatty on his "News of the World" program over NBC.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The White House said today President Truman had no intimation that Gen. MacArthur had planned to resign prior to his removal. This was the reply by Presidential Secretary Joseph H. Short who was asked about a broadcast report.

Hirohito 'Moved'

TOKYO, (AP)—Emperor Hirohito was deeply moved and showed "great concern" over General MacArthur's removal, an imperial chamberlain reported today.

General Ready For Congress Talks--Martin

House Committee Expected to Okay Joint Session

WASHINGTON—(AP)—House Republican leader Martin of Massachusetts said today "there is a possibility" Gen. Douglas MacArthur may fly back to the United States next week to address congress.

Martin made the announcement to newsmen following an early morning session of the house Republican policy committee.

"There is a possibility," he said, "that Gen. MacArthur will fly back next week and will be available to address congress sooner than the three weeks mentioned earlier."

Original plans, Martin said, were for the deposed general to return from Japan by ship.

Republicans, furiously angry at President Truman for firing the general, are sponsoring a resolution inviting MacArthur to address a joint meeting of the senate and the house.

Expect Okay

The house rules committee will consider the resolution tomorrow and Martin said he is confident both the committee and the house will approve it. He said he doesn't expect administration Democrats to fight the invitation proposal.

As for the senate's attitude, Martin said he didn't know.

On the Democrats' side, Senator Kerr of Oklahoma declared MacArthur—fired by President Truman—won't do it the way the Republicans propose if he, Kerr, can prevent it. How much open party help the Oklahoman will get on that score remained in doubt.

Will Press For Action
Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the senate GOP leader, told reporters he will continue to press for action on a resolution he offered yesterday. It would invite MacArthur to return to Washington at once to tell his side of the story at a joint meeting of congress.

Senator McFarland of Arizona, the Democratic leader, blocked consideration of the Wherry measure.

Martin talked to MacArthur in Tokyo by telephone and said the general is willing and eager to accept a congressional invitation.

Kerr, sharp critic of MacArthur, called the GOP proposal to have the five-star general address congress a "very, very unwise"

Army Discharges Softball Umpire; 'Poor Eyesight'

CAMP PICKETT, Va., (AP)—It took three burly sergeants to escort umpire private Noel B. Fuquay off the field after a softball game here. Seems the umpire had called some questionable plays. "I call 'em as I see 'em," Fuquay told his critics.

Today, the army revealed that Fuquay is being given a medical discharge. The reason? Poor eyesight.

THERE ARE SOME BASIC POINTS TO CONSIDER IN 'MAC'S' FIRING

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, (AP) — Here are a few main points to keep in mind before the uproar and confusion over the firing of General MacArthur get worse, which they will.

A lot of hot stuff already has been thrown into the steaming pot and, when heatedly stirred, won't make for clarity of thought. Strategy, civilian control over military commanders, emotions, and politics.

Impeachment—Sound Effects. But first there's the talk in congress of impeaching President Truman for firing the general. At this point it comes only from Republicans and is apparently strictly sound effect stuff.

One of the most powerful Republican senators told a reporter it was said more to "scare" Truman than anything else. He pointed out it probably would be impossible to do.

STRATEGY
Several months ago Truman said that, with Asia mostly Communist now, we'd be alone in the world if we lost our Allies in Western Europe through attack by Russia. To prepare against such an attack, since Russia is looked upon as the main enemy, this country and its European allies are trying to build their defenses.

To avoid wasting lives and material in Asia, this country and its Allies are trying to reach a settlement with China in Korea. The Truman administration thinks this may be done if the fighting can be limited to Korea.

Gen. MacArthur had been ordered to limit the fighting to Korea. He wanted to make all-out war on the Chinese Communists instead of just fighting them in Korea.

He wanted to bomb Manchuria, which belongs to China and joins Korea, since it's through Manchuria that the Communists pour men and supplies into the Korean fighting.

Further, he wanted to use Chiang Kai-Shek's anti-Communist troops on Formosa for an invasion of China proper, thus forcing the Communists to fight on a second front.

CIVILIAN CONTROL OVER MILITARY COMMANDERS

If MacArthur had thought all that, but followed orders and kept his views to himself, there would have been no dispute. Instead, he made his views public. More, he defied orders to keep his mouth shut.

The Truman view was that this made peace tougher to achieve in Asia with China, was spreading confusion among our European allies, and was outright defiance by a military man of civilian policy.

This country is based on the principle that the civilian leaders are supreme and that military leaders must take orders from them. Truman looked upon MacArthur's defiance as a defiance of that principle.

POLITICS
Republicans in congress have supported MacArthur and are supporting him now. If they keep the pot boiling now, they'll shake public confidence in Truman's leadership some more.

THE EMOTIONAL SIDE

All kinds of people are mixed up in this emotionally: Parents with sons in Korea; parents with sons who might be in a third world war; and people who think Communists, whether in China or Europe, should be smashed any time they make a move, without regard to over-all strategy.

If now there's no peace in Korea and Asia and the fighting drags on endlessly, there'll be plenty of this reaction: "MacArthur was right."

The reaction will be in favor of Truman if peace is achieved in Asia and no third world war breaks out.

But no matter which is proven right by events, the basic question remains unchanged; should the president of the United States let any military commander defy him?

Ten Women on Jury Trying Kenneth Scholz

JOLIET, (AP) — Ten women were among the 12 jurors chosen yesterday to try Kenneth Scholz, 17, of Crete on a charge of murdering 13-year old Billy Rodenburg, a neighbor.

All the jurors said they had no objection to capital punishment.

The trial is being heard before Judge Rosecoé C. South of Watseka in the Will county circuit court at Joliet.

Scholz is charged with slaying the teenager Jan. 17. Stat's Attorney J. I. Pearce said Scholz gave a statement to Sheriff Ernest E. Overby and County Police Lt. Roy Doerflinger relating that he strangled young Rodenburg in a shack near the Scholz home.

Thomas J. Kilroy, chief defense lawyer, indicated the defendant would not testify during the trial.

Two Crewmen Die In Train Crash Near Mundelein

MUNDELEIN, (AP) — Two trainmen died yesterday in the crash of a one-car North Shore train into a standing three car train. Three crewmen also suffered injuries.

Jeffrey Carter, 40, of Waukegan, the motorman, was thrown from his cab and killed. The second victim, Kenneth Stark, 37, of Highland Park, died at Conde Memorial hospital, Libertyville, of injuries suffered in the crash.

The accident occurred early yesterday at the Mundelein North Shore station. Carter, Stark and the three injured crewmen all were aboard the one-car train.

Cowed Butcher

REDONDO BEACH, Calif., (AP)—There were no questions asked when butcher Jack Watson was cutting up some roasts in his shop and a great dane "of about shetland pony size" came in, selected the biggest one, and stalked out with the choice cut in its mouth.

Watson watched the dog disappear down the street. He said he didn't do anything because of the "unusual size."

Clubs to Give Style Carnival At Mt. Morris

MT. MORRIS—Prizes will be a feature of the Fashion Carnival to be given by the Mt. Morris Junior and Senior clubs April 20 at 8 p. m.

Members of both Junior and Senior clubs are asked to attend the 13th district spring conference of the Illinois Federation of Woman's clubs at Rock Falls April 19. Members of the chorus who want special transportation can contact Mrs. Paul Nesemeier, Mrs. Donald Dusing, or Mrs. H. A. Hoff.

Those who attended the spring conference of the Ogle county Federation of Illinois Women's clubs at Byron April 10 were Mrs. Catherine Snowberger, Mrs. R. G. Hough, chairman of international relations of the state federation, Mrs. H. A. Hoff, 13th district music chairman of the Illinois Federation, Mrs. Paul Nesemeier, president of the Mt. Morris Senior Woman's club, Mrs. Donald Dusing, president of the Mt. Morris Junior club, Mrs. O. A. Hanke, Mrs. Leland Rittenhouse and Mrs. L. G. Finch.

Kiwanis Club
Members of the local Kiwanis club will go to Rochelle Tuesday evening, April 17. Raymond H. Beyer, designer-engineer of applied mechanics, research, Armour Research foundation and the Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago, was the speaker at this week's Kiwanis meeting.

When Beyer was only 13, he built and flew the first airplane in Indiana. He is recognized as one of the country's earliest aeronautical authorities and was a close friend of Gen. Billy Mitchell. His inventions range from land- in gear to fishing tackle. Beyer worked on both the Martin "Mars" and the Martin "Marauder."

BRILLIANT CAST—A leg encased in a cast almost to the hip, result of a skiing accident, didn't stop Joan Castle Joseph, noted Hollywood jeweler, from attending the Motion Picture Academy awards. Her cast shone as brightly as the movie stars because it was encrusted with gems over metallic gold cloth. Jeweled rings on her bare toes completed the stunt.

In a survey of necktie preferences a manufacturer found that Baltimore prefers purple, Texas and most of the South blue, Chicago green, but New York likes red, brown, blue or almost any color. The farther away from New York you get the less men like red neckties.

Paper Drive Is Conducted By Ohio 4-H

OHIO—The Ohio 4-H club conducted a successful paper drive with the cooperation of the residents of Ohio and surrounding rural area.

Three trucks driven by Mary Piper, Tom Gugerty and Don Fitzpatrick were loaded by Jack Piper, Carl and Ronny Morgenson, Donny Townsend, Kerry Saltzman, Bob Gugerty, Ormy Connor, Eddie Enright, Dick Anderson, Arlen Schultz and Ted Piper. Raymond Fitzpatrick, the club leader, supervised.

Special appreciation goes to Mr. and Mrs. John O'Hare for providing storage space for the paper until sold.

To Music Camps
Two Ohio high school girls were chosen by a board composed of the high school faculty and representative of the Woman's club to receive a week of training at the Egypt Music camp this summer. They are Kay Flapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vance Flapp, Walnut, and Norma Ioder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Ioder. This is a new project started this year by the Ohio Woman's club. Alternates also chosen by the board are Edward Sisler, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sisler, and Mary Doran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Doran.

Casualties in Korea 59,396

nounced U. S. casualties in Korea reached 59,396 today, an increase of 846 since last week.

The total includes 8,941 killed in action, 39,500 wounded and 10,865 missing. It represents casualties whose next of kin were notified through April 6.

Of the wounded, 1,040 subsequently died and 99 of the missing are known dead, raising the total combat death figure to 10,080.

The figure on missing also includes 1,109 who have since returned to U. S. control and 113 known to be prisoners of war, leaving 9,544 currently missing. The army reported 49,463 total casualties, an increase of 790 over the previous week. The navy total reached 634, only one more than previously reported. The Marine corps listed 32 additional casualties, making a current total of 8,826. Air force casualties increased 23 during the week, reaching a total of 473.

New Law Makes Phone 'Jamming' Penal Offense

ALBANY, N. Y., (AP)—After July 1, it will be a penal offense in New York state to "jam" telephone lines deliberately—a practice used recently during strikes. Gov. Dewey signed today a bill providing a maximum penalty of two years in prison on conviction for such a charge.

Jamming is the practice of keeping telephone lines busy by repeated, false calls.

Christopher Morley's home on Long Island is named "Green Escape."

The Greatest Peril
The head of one of this country's leading oil companies recently said that America's "greatest peril is not that we may have to fight, but that we may be forced into such a prolonged state of readiness to fight that we abandon too far and too long that freedom of enterprise without which we never could have achieved our present superior ability to fight."
If that should come to pass, the Kremlin will win a tremendous victory at no cost to itself. The basic strength of this country lies in the workings of free enterprise, and the oil industry is one of the best examples of it. During the past five years alone, this highly competitive industry has drilled 175,000 new wells and increased its underground reserves by 6,000,000,000 barrels. It has raised its potential maximum rate of efficient production by 1,600,000 barrels a day and its refining capacity by almost as much. American oil companies abroad have likewise increased their capacity in all departments. That is why oil is prepared to take on heavy defense commitments and to keep on meeting the civilian demand at the same time. And that never could have happened had the industry been fettered with a bewildering mass of government regulations and controls.
The worst danger of all is that we shall accept more and more government domination of the economy as a normal and permanent thing. We should eventually find ourselves in the position of England, where the production of almost all the essentials, to say nothing of the luxuries, is inadequate. And then our strength would be sapped to the point where our very existence as a free nation would be menaced.

Empty Boasting
The Russian propagandists have once more been boasting of the superiority of their economic system. The illustration in this case has been commodity prices. In the U. S. S. R., where the government has the whole say, the prices of certain goods were recently reduced. In other countries, notably the United States, prices have been rising. Therefore, say the propagandists, the Russian worker is getting all the best of it.
The validity of this may be judged from an excerpt from a New York Times editorial, which said, "The average Soviet worker earns somewhat less than $40 a week for 48 hours of work. After the new price reductions he must pay about $2 a pound for beef, almost $4 a pound for butter, 60 cents for a quart of milk, and similarly for other foods. A single-breasted wool suit, whose price was not cut, will cost him almost $300 and a pair of shoes $85. Little wonder that the Moscow censors restricted correspondents there to cabling the percentages by which prices were cut rather than the new reduced quotations."
In Russia, the state runs all the factories, and owns or controls all of the farms. It decides what will be produced, of what quality, and how much the price will be. Competition does not exist on the production level. And, of equal importance, competition does not exist on the retail level either. Consumers must patronize designated state stores, and pay a designated price for a designated ration. And Russia has made it a policy to charge exorbitant retail prices in order to drain off consumer income.
Compare that with the United States, where all kinds and sizes of stores are competing vigorously for trade—and, inflation or no inflation, are doing their best to undersell the other fellow. Here's one big reason why our living standards are so far ahead of Communism's as to make comparison difficult.

RUTH MILLETT
Mom With Lot of Trouble
Has Only Herself to Blame

"Please help me," a mother cause she has been made to feel asks. And then she lists her troubles.
She has three children, a daughter 14, a daughter 8, and a two-year-old boy.
The 14-year-old is no help around the house. The 8-year-old "talks back." The baby is "so much trouble." The housework is too hard for her and her husband doesn't seem to care how hard she has to work. And so on.
Nobody can help that housewife. Nobody but herself. She hates her job. The children are a worry instead of a pleasure. She is sunk in self-pity because her life is all drudgery.
Unless she wakes up to the fact that she is responsible for every one of her complaints, no one can help her.
If her 14-year-old is no help around the house it is probably because she has learned to hate any kind of housework from her mother.
USED TO BEING YELLED AT
If her 8-year-old is sassy and hard to handle, it is probably because she has been made to feel that she is in the way and is more used to being yelled at than to being treated with gentle but firm authority.
Any two-year-old demands a lot of care and attention, but that is what a mother is for. It is silly for a woman to have a baby and then feel put upon because it is a "lot of trouble."
The housework for a family of five shouldn't be too hard for a woman to handle, if she gets a little system into her work and goes at it cheerfully. But any job is too hard if it is hated and dreaded and despised.
As for her husband's not seeming sympathetic because she works so hard—well, he probably works hard, too. It's as big a job to support a family as to care for it. And no husband is likely to feel sorry for a wife who feels sorry for herself.
So I can't help this unhappy woman—or any others like her. No one can help them. But they could, if they would, help themselves.

IN HOLLYWOOD
By ERKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, (NEA)—You won't catch me trusting marquee titles again.
I'll be careful to refer to it as "Delilah and Samson" when I run into Hedy Lamarr, "All About Margo Channing" when next I meet Bette Davis and I'll even ask Olivia de Havilland what she thought about the critics who reviewed "Juliet and Romeo."
And if I ever interview the lion who wins the role, I'll talk about George Bernard Shaw's "The Lion and Androcles."
What goes up in movie-house lights, I have to report, doesn't always match up with what gets spelled out in the mind of a movie queen or a profile king.
Howard Duff wised me up. I hadn't heard that it was called "Sam Bass and Calamity Jane" until Howard said it that way.
On the marquee it was "Calamity Jane and Sam Bass" and Yvonne de Carlo was Howard's co-star.
Howard shrugged:
"Look, I call it 'Sam Bass and Calamity Jane.' Let Yvonne de Carlo take care of herself."
(Yvonne probably will, son.)
Maybe Howard was kidding, after all.
He'd just been pulled out of a whinny-and-snort opus tagged "The Cave" because his broken leg hadn't knitted well enough for horseback riding.
He rubbed his chin thoughtfully and said that he could take or leave westerns, anyhow.

SADDLE-HAPPY
But give him a choice between an ordinary sagebrush thriller and a so-so drawing room picture, and he'd leap into the saddle faster than Lash LaRue.
"Who can lose in a western?" Howard asked. "It's all in getting lost him his first buckskin star being anything?"
The only sunset he'd ever headed into was Sunset Boulevard—in a low-slung convertible—when UI learn how to get on and off a horse, ring chime in "Red Canyon."
"I thought a wrangler was a foot-stamping, door-slamming leading lady and I was scared to death of a horse. I went out a month before the picture just to learn how to get on and off a horse. Even so, I was terrible in the picture. The double had to do everything."
For years, Duff was radio's "Sam Spade."
People still refer to him as "Sam" or "Spade" or "Shovel."
And they even wrote to him about cousin Julius who mysteriously disappeared from home a month ago and want to know what his fee would be to track down the low-life who poisoned a flock of prize white leghorns.
Wailed Howard:
"People really think I'm a private eye. I don't get fan mail. I get detective problems. These are mature people, too. Something's wrong somewhere. I don't know."
He admitted that he had his tongue in his cheek on the air-show when he dictated those private reports to Effie, his secretary.
"Sometimes I think we had too much fun on the show. Sam was a dull guy when it began and I was trying hard to be a Humphrey Bogart. We lightened it, put in more humor. Yeah, I guess we had fun, all right."

DR. GARDNER
Did he remember the time, when he was dating Ava Gardner, that he referred to a sawbones on the show as Dr. A. V. A. Gardner?
He hadn't thought of it for years, but he remembered:
"There was another time," he said. "We had an actress on the show who played a horrible, boozy landlady. I said, 'Thank you and good night Ava Gardner.' Ava was watching the show from the sponsors' booth. She almost killed me."
Howard's right up there with Alan Ladd, Farley Granger and Tony Curtis as a leave-em-tilp boy with movie fan magazine editors.
His press agent, he sighed, is always in conference with writers on new ideas for Howard Duff stories.
Once a fan mag scribbler drew a zero in interviewing him and complained to the press agent.
"He told her that I was a hard man to know," Howard related. "The writer let out a whoop. 'That's it,' she said, 'that's my angle. I'll call my story, 'The Howard Duff Nobody Knows.'"
And that's what she called it.
David Niven dons a pith helmet, short pants and packs an elephant gun or a jungle dream sequence in "The Lady Says No." The smart group includes six beautiful show girls in sarongs. Says David: "King Solomon's Mines" had seven-foot natives. We've got five-foot, eight-inch show girls."
Frank DeVol about a doll at a Palm Springs pool:
"She had a lovely profile all the way down."

Jacoby on Bridge
Bidder or Player for Partner?
By OSWALD JACOBY

Whom would you rather have for a partner—a good bidder whose play is poor or a poor bidder whose play is good? Bridge experts debate this question, and they usually prefer the good bidder. My own opinion is best shown by means of a hand from a recent team match. The declarer at one table was a good bidder, while the declarer at the other table was a good player.

In the first room, the good bidder reached the excellent contract of six spades as shown in the diagram. West opened the queen of diamonds, and dummy won with the king. Now Mr. Good Bidder led a low spade from dummy. East played low, and declarer won with the king of spades in his own hand.

When West failed to follow suit, Mr. Good Bidder came to the sickening realization that he could not make his contract. East was bound to make two trump tricks. East would save the ace to kill dummy's jack, after which either his ten or his nine would make a second trump trick.

It is easy to see that correct play would prevent East from winning two trump tricks. After winning the first trick with the king of diamonds, declarer should lead the jack of spades from the dummy.

There is no problem unless one of the opponents has all of the missing trumps. If West has all four trumps, he cannot be prevented from winning two tricks. If East has all four trumps, it is imperative to lead the jack of spades from dummy at trick two.

When the jack of spades is led, East wins with his ace. Regardless of the return, dummy wins and leads a trump. East can play the nine, but South wins with the queen and re-enters dummy in order to finesse through the ten of spades.

This line of play was adopted by Mr. Good Player at the second table. He therefore succeeded in making 12 tricks.

Remember, however, that we have already warned you that Mr. Good Player does not bid very well. He was in a contract of seven spades.

You pays your money and you takes your choice.

CARD SENSE
Q—With neither side vulnerable, your partner deals and bids one diamond. The next player doubles. You hold: Spades 7-3, Hearts 6-5-4, Diamonds K-9-3-2, Clubs K-8-7-4. What do you do?
A—Bid two diamonds. This raise shows a weak hand with fair diamond support. It can hardly shut the opponents out, but it may indicate a paying sacrifice bid to your partner. If you do not show your meager strength now you will probably never get another inexpensive chance to do so.

TODAY'S QUESTION
With neither side vulnerable, your partner deals and bids one diamond. The next player doubles. You hold: Spades 7-3, Hearts 6-5-4, Diamonds K-9-3-2, Clubs K-8-7-4. What do you do?

The Doctor Says:
Doctor Has Several Ways to Study Stomach for Ulcer
By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Suppose you have had pain in the stomach region or peculiar stomach sensations for a few weeks and go to the doctor. What next? The story that you tell may raise the suspicion of ulcer of the stomach. The doctor wants to make sure before starting treatment.

There are many things he can do. One is to give a special test meal, withdraw the stomach contents through a rubber tube after a little while, and examine the material for acid and other things. This is of enormous help and although sometimes a person dreads the tube for the first time, it is not painful. In fact, a great many patients learn to do it themselves without difficulty. Another thing that is usually done is to examine a sample of intestinal waste for blood since the doctor needs to know whether the ulcer is bleeding.

Important in any study of the stomach is the X-ray. For this the patient is given a liquid to drink which contains barium. The barium keeps the rays from going through so that the stomach can be seen in a sort of silhouette picture.

An ulcer pocket is visible by this method so that its location and size is accurately known. It is possible, too, to look directly into the stomach by means of an ingenious flexible tube fitted with mirrors and called a gastroscope. Pictures can be taken of the inside of the stomach if desired.

All this is necessary as a preliminary to treatment. But something should be said about treatment, also, because people often get confused about it and wonder why one person is treated one way for ulcer and the next-door neighbor another.

The answer is simple. The treatment depends on the location of the ulcer, on its size, on the symptoms produced, on the age or occupation of the patient, and many other factors which vary from person to person.

TREATMENTS
In general, medical treatment is aimed at avoiding irritation of the ulcer from acid, nervous strain or anything else so that the ulcer will be given a chance to heal. Surgical treatment, of which there are several kinds, has a similar purpose unless the particular operation is for removal of the ulcer and the stomach area around it.

Which of these various methods to use demands careful study and expert weighing of all the factors in each individual person.

Dr. Jordan will answer questions from his readers in a special column once a week. Watch for it.

Help Prevent Heart Disease
By Eating Less Fat and Salt
By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—To help yourself prevent heart disease eat less fat and less salt.

Those are two of the main medical tips on eating for a healthy heart. They were described today at the American College of Physicians' annual meeting by Dr. Thomas M. Durant, professor of clinical medicine, Temple university school of medicine.

Many Americans are digging their graves with their teeth, by what they eat or don't eat, he said.

Four other heart diet tips:
Get plenty of vitamins and minerals. You need the vitamins especially to help burn the carbohydrates, starches and sugars you eat.
Get enough protein, meat, fish and milk, for your heart is a muscle, made of protein.
Get enough iron, vitamins and protein to avoid anemia. The heart has to work harder if blood lacks red cells and isn't carrying its normal load of oxygen.
Avoid overweight. Fatness adds extra miles of blood vessels and puts a strain on the heart.

Excessive salt and fat tend to be harmful for many people, inviting two kinds of heart trouble. Dr. Durant said if people used less salt and fat "it would delay the appearance of these diseases" and they might beat the fat-caused heart disease so well that they could live normal life spans.

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—Did John Marshall hold a cabinet post at the time he was appointed chief justice?
A—Marshall was Secretary of State in John Adams' cabinet when the government moved to Washington in 1800. After his appointment as chief justice he continued as both Secretary of State and chief justice until March 4, 1801, the only man in the history of the government ever to occupy these two offices at the same time.

Q—What is the coldest possible temperature?
A—The coldest temperature, theoretically possible, is absolute zero, is approximately minus 273.15 degrees Centigrade, or minus 459.6 degrees Fahrenheit.

Q—How many breeds of dogs exist in this country?
A—In all more than 111 different breeds of dogs are recognized and shown in the United States.

Q—Does the state of California have the sole rights to the waters of Lake Tahoe?
A—Beautiful Lake Tahoe in the Rockies provides a controversial question in California and Nevada relative to the use of its water; it is partly in each state.

Q—What is the origin of the word "blurb"?
A—It was coined by Gelett Burgess and was defined by him as a noise made by a publisher.

SO THEY SAY

I want my children, and their children and other men's children to know peace. I want them to enjoy the security that only a well-established peace can give.
—Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff.

Anyone who might think of aggression against us must know that every inch of our territory has been soaked in blood in the past and if necessary will be soaked in blood again... but it will remain ours.
—Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

I have learned, through listening to the singing of others, the great value of music as a tonic for the soul—as a cultural balance for the home and the nation.
—Sen. Wayne Morse (Rep., Ida.), confessing his inability to sing.

Wherever the President goes, the President works.
—White House press secretary Joseph Short.

We can't obtain bread without earning it, have freedom without maintaining it, enjoy a right without defending it, and achieve happiness without deserving it.
—Brig.-Gen. David Sarnoff, chairman Radio Corporation of America.

England Sends Planes to Aid Troops in Malaya

SINGAPORE, (AP)—More bombing planes are coming from England to aid the R.A.F. in its attacks against Communist terrorists in the dense jungles of Malaya.

The R.A.F. Headquarters here said this means an intensification of the air strikes against terrorist hideouts. More planes of the Brigand light bomber type are earmarked for service in Malaya. Delivery flights also will start of Hornet fighter-bombers—Britain's fastest piston-engined aircraft. These are to replace the Tempest fighter-bombers now operating in Malaya, and will carry a bigger punch in the anti-terrorist war.

Sulphur Shortage

TEL AVIV, (AP)—Israel's sulphur crisis has been worsened recently due to a cutback in U. S. exports. In an attempt to ease the shortage, a Haifa chemical company is considering the production of sulphuric acid from iron pyrites, found in Cyprus, North Africa and Spain.

Israel needs sulphuric acid to produce fertilizer and for the manufacture of many other industrial products. Government authorities find some consolation in the fact that about 2,500 tons of Dead Sea potash for fertilizer can soon be turned over to Israeli farmers.

Westbrook Pegler
Pegler Says Kefauver Committee Ignored Worst Crime Syndicate in United States—"Union Racket"
(Copyright, 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Senator Kefauver and his colleagues and their counsel ignored absolutely and refrained from investigating the most powerful crime syndicate in the history of the United States. I refer to the union racket, which is divided into two houses of just about even strength, the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. These are much more dangerous in their corrupt political activities than all of the so-called underworld syndicates together and they are infested with vicious criminals. It is an important fact that they are obsequiously courted by the same politicians, from Truman down, who try to disown Frank Costello and his colleagues.

Costello and the others, some of whom seem to have had only a remote association which did not justify the use of the word "syndicate," were said to have aspired to political power in localities and even in regions crossing state lines. But this union racket, which enjoys the patronage of the Democratic party and whose favor is sought by much of the Republican party, aspires to economic and political domination of the whole republic under a code of rules and conduct as crooked, brutal, arbitrary, and reckless as Adolf Hitler's. These are facts.

Kefauver sat on a subcommittee of the judiciary committee of the house early in World War II which heard uncontroverted testimony proving the wickedness of this racket. He knows that the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. were brought to their present predatory power by his own corrupt political party. His party received slush funds from criminal component unions of these two great corrupt institutions. Comparatively, the money spent by the slot-machine and hand-book syndicates was petty cash if, indeed, they spent any money for political results.

These union rackets pay no income taxes on a graft of one billion dollars a year.

The weapons of these crime syndicates include riot, blackmail, slander, interference with interstate commerce amounting to criminal violation of the Sherman law (condoned by special permission of the Supreme court), vandalism, murder, atrocious assault, and intimidation by threats of violence. They include also treason, insurrection, and sedition. The treason has occurred in organized mass violence which has challenged the sovereignty of the government of several states. In some cases it has temporarily struck down state government. Under most state constitutions such affronts to government are treason. Insurrection and sedition were present in the same notorious outbreaks.

The C. I. O. owes its very existence to acts which were serious crimes. But for such criminal activity, it never would have been able to round up its initial herd of captives. Since 1948, the C. I. O. has openly admitted that a number of its own unions had been dominated by Communist enemies of the United States and has ejected some of them. All Communists are enemies of this nation's adherents of our declared, mortal enemy. Their treason is inherent in their politics, but they were consulted by the hierarchy of the C. I. O. until political experience prompted Philip Murray, the president, and others to throw them out. Patriotism and morals had nothing to do with this purge.

The A. F. of L. and the C. I. O., by themselves, as entities, maintain crime. But their component unions, which in each case make up the whole, have a terrible record. A few scoundrels, but only a few have been sent to prison.

But the great racket itself maintains its power and continues to rake in its loot, and its agents pose before the public as legitimate spokesmen of the entire working population. At present, they actually demand places in the office of defense mobilization.

The congress, which pretends to abhor organized bookmaking as a menace to the nation, is guilty of flagrant fakery in ignoring its own partners in crime. The instance wherein the agent of a fireman's union said he passed a campaign contribution to William O'Dwyer when he was mayor of New York, is patently typical. John L. Lewis boasted that he put up $500,000 of his subjects' money to elect Roosevelt in 1936. He expected favors in return. If that was all right, why should Costello nominate mayors, judges, and even presidential candidates? In what way is this cynical tyrant preferable to Costello?

The Secret of Trouble-Free Roofs

Working on an entirely different principle, Ruberoid Air-Vent Felt prevents roof troubles because it helps eliminate the blisters or air pockets that frequently develop on smooth surface built-up roofs. When Air-Vent is laid, air or vapor is forced out through tiny "Outlet" valves. Asphalt seeps in through the "Inlet" valves, giving a better bond. Result—freedom from blister troubles—no air bubbles to expand and lift the felt.

Protect your roof with Air-Vent; the lasting results are proved in actual performance. Let us give you an estimate on the cost of a built-up roof for your building, using Ruberoid exclusive, patented Air-Vent Felt. No obligation.

The MATURE PARENT.

CHILD-WORSHIPPERS MAKE THEIR CHILDREN HELPLESS

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Child-worship is a form of parental abuse. When we make another adult our "all," we burden him pretty heavily. If we make our child our "all," we either lose him or stunt his emotional growth so much that we make him helpless for life. Children are not gods. When we try to make them pretend that they are, we teach them to fear and hate the fact they are human beings.

Fred's mother made him her god. Divorced after an unhappy marriage, she frankly referred to him as her "all." One night he made an excuse to borrow her car for a secret date with a girl. Speeding along a lonely road, he lost control of the car. The girl was hurt. The boy who was his mother's "all" forced the injured girl out of the car and left her to be found the next morning by the state police.

Like Fred's mother, child-worshippers are often parents whose own happiness has been denied. Retreating into the kind of self-righteous "idealism" that pretends to be superior to normal human hungers and needs, they require the same evasions from their children.

If such children do find the strength to claim their right to fall in love and marry, their sense of guilt at betraying the high-minded "ideals" of their parents can tear them into half-husbands and half-wives.

FIRST MORAL LAW FITS PARENTHOOD

There are certain tests we can apply to our love for our youngsters that may help us discover whether it is overloaded with worship.

If we feel a need to always excuse our child's wrong-doing, it may indicate that our desire to believe he is perfect is greater than our love for him.

If we never seem to find reasons to approve his friends, it may mean that we want to keep our little god to ourselves.

If we insist on holding up one child as a paragon to his brothers and sisters, we may be inflicting adoration upon him.

If we are outraged or over-sympathetic when our child encounters hurt or failure, it may indicate we resent the fact our little idol has to face reality like anyone else.

Our great religious teachers knew well what they were about when they made the First Commandment primal moral law, and showed us how to protect those we love against the ordeal of bearing the cross of adoration.

Missionary Group Planning Banquet On Tuesday, May 8

Twenty-two members of the Missionary Society of the Church of the Brethren met Tuesday evening at the Loveland Community House, with Mrs. L. E. Sheller, Mrs. Chester Moats and Miss Alice Sheller as hostesses. When the meeting was called to order, Mrs. Ira Utz led the group in singing a hymn and Mrs. Clarence B. Fike had charge of the devotional period.

A period of silent meditation preceded the business session, which was conducted by Mrs. W. E. Stern, president. An announcement was made of the women's work rally for this district at Milledgeville, Thursday, April 26, for which Miss Velda Butterbaugh will serve as transportation chairman. All ladies of the church who have not yet paid their women's work dues to Miss Marian Butterbaugh are requested to do so at once so that the money may be sent to the district treasurer.

Plans were completed for the mother and daughter banquet which will be Tuesday, May 8. It was decided to serve a fellowship supper for the church membership Sunday evening, May 27. The evening church service on that date will be directed by the society and they will secure a foreign missionary as speaker.

The evening's mission study was a panel discussion on "Islam," with Mrs. David Wade as leader. Mrs. Fike and Mrs. Stern presided at the candlelight refreshment table.

DINNER GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hubert entertained Wednesday evening with a dinner party at their home in North Dixon.

When you buy a colander make sure that if the holes are small, there are enough of them to allow the liquid to pass through freely. On the other hand don't buy a colander with holes that are too large so that foods like rice will slip through.

It's convenient to have two flour sifters in your kitchen; a small size holding about two cups of flour to use for making pie, muffins, cake, biscuits; and a larger size holding about four cups of flour to use for yeast breads.

A complete history of Dixon and surrounding area will be presented in The Evening Telegraph's 270-page Centennial edition which will reach subscribers on May 1.

Members and guests of the Dixon Woman's Relief Corps, met at the Loveland Community House Monday to observe Grand Army Day. A picnic dinner was served at 12:30.

After dinner the following program was presented: group singing, led by Mrs. Norman W. Dietrich; vocal solos, by Miss Betty Martin; History of the Grand Army, Mrs. W. E. Richardson; vocal solos, by Miss Betty Martin; and a piano solo, by Mrs. Harold Hopkins, who was also the accompanist for Miss Martin.

During the business meeting at 2:30, Mrs. Ella Hobbs was installed as assistant conductor. Dixon corps received an invitation from the Cook county association of Woman's Relief Corps to attend a reception and luncheon in honor of the department president, Mrs. Jessie Wielage and her staff at the Hamilton hotel, April 30.

A special collection will be taken at the next meeting, May 14, to give contributions to the child welfare and other department funds.

Bradford Group Tells Activities

When Bradford Home Bureau met recently in the Legion room of the memorial building with 26 members and four guests present, roll call was "What I Read and When." A lesson on butter cakes was given by Mrs. Engelbrecht and Mrs. Cross. "Protection from A-Bombs," the health lesson was given by Mrs. Hart and the minor lesson on 4-H work was given by Mrs. Vaupel.

Hostesses were: Mrs. Pfoutz, Mrs. Reitz, and Mrs. Miller. The next meeting will be Wednesday, April 25 in the Legion room.

Thirty members enjoyed a 6:30 dinner at the Landmark recently, followed by canasta. High prize went to Mrs. Semeler and second to Mrs. Miller. Glen Pfoutz was also a prize winner.

LOVELAND PTA
Loveland PTA will meet at 7:30 tonight, Thursday, at the school. As this will be the last meeting of the year all members are urged to be present.

When Canada, then New France, took its first census in 1666 the country had 3,215 inhabitants.

Chasteen Pupils Present Programs

Piano pupils of Mrs. Byron Chasteen, 819 North Ottawa av., were heard in recital Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this week at the Loveland Community House. A large attendance of parents, relatives and friends attended the recital by beginning, intermediate and advanced students.

Special numbers were of duets, trios, two piano work and double duets. Students of Mrs. Chasteen are from Dixon, Harmon, Ohio, Lee Center, Amboy, Grand Detour, Franklin Grove, Nachusa and Polo.

Ladies Aid Plans Sale

When the Immanuel Lutheran Ladies Aid met recently in the church parlors for their regular meeting, president, Mrs. Gedes, called the meeting to order with singing. Mrs. Marcus Gonnemann gave a lesson on Medical Missions.

Plans were completed for a bake sale to be held Saturday, April 11. Lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Bay, Mrs. Farster and Mrs. Bott.

Stombergs To Reside In Oregon

PAW PAW—Making their home in Oregon will be newlyweds, the Donald G. Stombergs. The son of the E. A. Stombergs, Oregon, and Mrs. Dona Florschuetz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Florschuetz, Paw Paw, were wed at the Light-house church, near Oregon. The double ring ceremony was performed at 8 p.m. Friday, March 30, by Rev. Praetzer.

Mrs. Ruth Aschenbrenner, Nachusa, the bride's sister, was matron of honor, and Charles Stomberg was his brother's best man. Miss Merle Aschenbrenner, Amboy, furnished nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a navy blue street length dress styled with a peplum jacket. Her accessories were white and she wore a corsage of white gardenias.

Mrs. Aschenbrenner wore a grey taffeta dress with green accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The bride's mother watched the ceremony wearing a navy blue dress with matching hat and pink accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a brown suit with grey accessories.

Reception at Church

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. Decorations were in yellow and white. Mrs. Arthur Shoemaker, Dixon, sister of the bridegroom, cut the three-tiered wedding cake; Miss Dorothy Hackman, West Brooklyn, poured and Mrs. Zeta Hackman, West Brooklyn, and Mrs. Charles Stomberg, poured.

The new Mrs. Stomberg, a graduate of Lee Center high school, has been employed in Dixon. Don is a graduate of Franklin Grove high school and is employed at the Paragon foundries, Oregon.

Dixon Woman's Club to Hear 'Functional Art for Our Day'

"Functional Art for Our Day" will be the topic for the program of the Dixon Woman's club at their regular meeting at 2 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, at the Loveland Community House. The speaker will be Miss Alma Anderson, chairman of the department of Fine Arts of Northern Illinois State Teachers college, DeKalb.

She will present colored slides of some of the latest uses of art in everyday living. Her field of interest in her subject has been wide and varied and has included much study of home decorating and textile designing, as well as paintings and appreciation of art.

Those who have heard Miss Anderson say that she is spontaneous, natural and enthusiastic and that she makes a special effort to keep her talks practical and useful to the ordinary homemaker. She tries to show how art is applied to ordinary living whether people are conscious of it or not.

She has her M. A. from Columbia and has done graduate work at Chicago and Iowa. She has been at art schools in Woodstock, Provincetown, N. Y., Banff, Canada and Gattingburg, Tenn.

Mrs. Helen Rolfe is chairman of the art committee and is assisted by Mrs. H. A. Lazler, Mrs. L. E. Sharpe, Miss Louis Snow and Mrs. Kenneth Helm.

Vacation Church School Teachers To Meet Tonight

The first meeting of the teachers assisting the Vacation Church school program this summer, will be held at the Loveland Community House at 7:30 this evening, April 12. At this meeting, text books and other supplies will be distributed and the assignments of the teachers to the three schools will be made.

For more than half a century Protestant churches have been taking advantage of the summer vacation period to teach the Christian message to boys and girls, and literally millions of children have attended these Vacation Church schools during the past 50 years. This is the year of the 50th anniversary celebration, and the study emphasis is, the "Church." The cooperative Vacation school in Dixon will be the two weeks immediately following the close of the public schools, June 11, through June 22, at the Lincoln, North and South Central schools.

For Garden Day

Harold Cook last night lectured and demonstrated floral arrangements to the Florists Telegraph Delivery Association of Indiana, in Mishawaka, Ind. Today he talked on the "Mechanics of Flower Composition" at the Conference of club presidents and program chairmen of the Illinois Garden Clubs at Fullerton Hall, Art Institute, Chicago. Distinguished guest at the Garden Day was Mrs. T. J. Knudson.

GAA TO HAVE SALE

The Girls Athletic Association of Dixon high school will sponsor a food and bake sale at 9 a.m., Saturday, April 14, at the Dixon Paint and Wallpaper store. Proceeds will be used to send two members of GAA to summer camp.

Eta Chi Chapter Honors President

Eta Chi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority had a business meeting Monday night at the Loveland Community House. Miss Pat Leggett, who was in charge of the program, presented the topic, "Formal and Informal Introductions and Invitations."

A group gift from the sorority members was presented to Mrs. Wendell Snell, the president, a recent bride. Refreshments carrying out the bridal theme were served.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS TO MEET

The Royal Neighbors will meet at 8 o'clock tonight, with Mrs. Frank Wadzinski, 1413 First st.

Marjorie Hare, Pfc. Ewald Wed At Hare Home

STEWART—When Marjorie I. Hare, daughter of the Charles Hares, Steward, became the bride of Pfc. Leroy E. Ewald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ewald, Rt. 3, Rochelle, the home of her parents provided the perfect setting for the wedding. Rev. Gene Harrington of the Steward Methodist church officiated at the March 29, double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a red rose corsage with her navy suit. Miss Nancy Ewald of Steward, as the bride's attendant wore a navy blue suit with a red rose corsage.

Howard Ewald of Rt. 3, Rochelle, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride's mother selected a brown crepe dress and the bridegroom's mother wore a tan suit for the wedding. They wore corsages of yellow carnations and jonquils.

Reception for Family
At the reception for the immediate family, the bride's cake garlanded with pink and white snapdragons and pink candles were the decorations. Following the reception the newlyweds left on a wedding trip.

Both of the newlyweds are graduates of Steward high school and the bridegroom, who is on a 30-day leave, was with the Marine reserve in Korea since last September.

Beverly Arnould New President of Viola 4-H Group

Fourteen members were present for the second meeting of the Viola 4-H club at the home of Carol Biers. The hostess gave a talk on the different kinds of cookies and Carol Betz talked on the care of teeth.

When the election of officers was held Beverly Arnould was elected president; Carol Biers, vice president; Donna June Ackland, secretary; Nancy Walters, treasurer; Carol Montavon, reporter; Carol Betz, song leader and Norma Montavon, recreation leader. The leaders, Mrs. Charles Biers and Mrs. Betz demonstrated making apple sauce cookies.

The next meeting will be Saturday, April 14 with Carol Betz.

To Tulip Festival

Home Bureau members are reminded that April 13 is the deadline for getting reservations into the county office for the Tulip Festival tour. Unit chairmen have details of cost for the trip to be made May 16. The festival will be enjoyed for a two-day period. There is no limit to the number who may attend.

CHI FELLOWSHIP SALE

A rummage sale will be sponsored from 9 to 11 a.m. Saturday, April 14, in the basement of the First Christian church by the Chi Fellowship lass.

Retail Prices of Table Items Hold Steady, Pork Takes Drop

(By the Associated Press)
Overall food prices at both the retail and wholesale level held steady this week.

Some stores trimmed prices of a few pork items two to six cents a pound as consumer meat buying continued slow generally. Demand for eggs was reported holding up well, however, and top grade eggs were boosted one to four cents a dozen in many places. Price advances appeared to outnumber declines in retail produce departments. Higher than last weekend in most sections were snap beans, beets, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, strawberries, tomatoes, oranges and grapefruit.

Asparagus Lower
Asparagus moved a little lower but was still in the specialty price class in most markets. Also somewhat lower were cucumbers, lettuce, peas and spinach.

The agriculture department topped its list of plentiful foods for thrifty buying this week with eggs and dry beans.

Although egg prices edged up a little this week in many areas, market analysts believe a downward trend can be expected. One reason is that improved breeding of chickens, better feed and more scientific handling are increasing production per hen. The average daily output per 100 hens in the decade beginning in 1940 was 46.1 eggs—last month it was 51.4 eggs.

Plenty of Dry Beans
National production of dry edible beans exceeded 15,000,000 bags last year (a bag is 100 pounds). That's somewhat below the 1949 total, but plenty large enough to "insure lots of beans for the soup pot and the side dish in the months until the 1951 harvest," the PMA said.

Egrets Return To Illinois as Sign of Spring

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP)—For many residents of the Illinois river valley, the first egret is a sure sign of spring.

The stately white birds are becoming more common each year in Northern Illinois. They once were verging on extinction because their plumes were much prized as trimming for women's hats. When a federal ban was placed on use of the plumes, the birds began multiplying.

As spring advances, they migrate north from Florida. Some have been noted nesting on the shores of Illinois farm ponds several miles from any large stream. Starved Rock state park has a colony of egrets, as do other valley spots, including Ottawa.

Gov. Stevenson Says Firing of Mac 'Necessary'

SPRINGFIELD, (AP)—Stevenson said yesterday that Gen. MacArthur's dismissal was necessary to preserve the principal of civilian control of the military.

In a reply to a request by the New York Herald Tribune for a statement, the governor said:

"No one has done more than Gen. MacArthur to preserve and protect our system of government—but it is a system in which civilian control of the military is basic. As a great military leader his apparent departure from the fundamental principle of disobedience is hard to understand. Our only compensation is the reaffirmation of a great principle."

American Heads Ethiopian Bank

ADDIS ABABA, (AP)—For the second time since Ethiopia established her new currency in 1945, an American's name is appearing on all paper notes circulating in the country.

The name is that of Jack Bennett, former U. S. Treasury official and later financial adviser on the staff of General Lucius D. Clay in the American Zone of Germany.

Crisp new paper bills just put into circulation now bear his signature. Bennett is governor of the State Bank of Ethiopia. This is the bank of issue of all Ethiopian legal tender. The first American's name to appear on Ethiopian paper money was that of George Blowers, former head of the Bank of Monrovia, Liberia, and governor of the State Bank of Ethiopia until 1945.

All of Ethiopia's paper money is printed by the Security Bank Note company of Philadelphia. The metal coins also are minted in the United States.

Last Resort

MONCKS CORNER, S. C. (AP)—The police in this little town near Charleston have been lenient with traffic offenders, but conditions have become so bad the chief of police has issued this warning in the weekly Berkeley Democrat:

"We have tried everything we know, including repeated warnings. Now all we can do is enforce the law."

BOUNDARIES OF SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 170 LEE COUNTY ILLINOIS

SCHOOL DISTRICT 170 is outlined in dark ink on the map above. A complete description of the territory included follows: Commencing at the center of the road at the main entrance of the Dixon State hospital and running west along the road north of the Dixon Country club to the Lowell park road; then west one-half mile; then south, crossing the Polo road just east of the Hess property; then continuing south to the north line of the Coss farm; then west to the township line; then south along the west line of the Henry Hicks property to Alternate 30; then continuing south to the township line at the corner where the River road turns south from the township road (the Shrader, Coss, J. W. Curran, Henry Hicks, Bellows, Hauer and Haas land are all within the district, but the Reynoldswood farm is outside); then east along the township line road to the northwest corner of Martin's subdivision; then south along the westerly line of Martin's subdivision to Rock river (all of Martin's subdivision is included in the district, the Cornelius Drew property is in district 163); then directly across Rock river to the south bank of the river; then southwest along the river bank to the Buckaloo farm; then south along the east line of the Buckaloo farm to the Rock Island road; then west along the Rock Island road to the township line; then south over the McRoberts crossing about 40 rods to the northwest corner of the Tobias Bowers farm; then east along the north line of the Tobias Bowers farm to the northeast corner thereof, this point being the northwest corner of the John Penrose 10-acre tract; then south along the west line of the Penrose tract to the highway; then east along the highway to the Pump Factory road (including the Stanbrough property); then east on the Bloody Gulch road to the east line of section eight which point is near the intersection of the above road with the Illinois Central railroad; then north on the section line to the southwest corner of the Peter Christianson farm; then east to the Peoria or Princeton road (including the Byron Countryman, Frank Forman and Peter Christianson properties but not others south of the railroad along the Peoria road); then east along the railroad to Lovers' lane; then north on Lovers' lane to the Lincoln highway; then east on the Lincoln highway 80 rods (the Van Eppe farm and the west 80 acres of the Barlow farm are included); then north one-half mile to the north line of the Barlow land; then west to the city limits (this point is the southeast corner of the former county sanitarium property, now the Shaw property); then north along the east line of the city limits to Rock river; then continuing across the Rock river to the north bank of the river; then continuing north along the bank of the river to the east line of section 20 (this point is directly north of a point near the amusement hall in the hospital grounds); then south to a point near the amusement hall; and then directly west to the main hospital entrance (the Dr. Murray residence is thus outside the district and it would appear that a part of the original administration building is inside the district and a part is outside.)

Red Cross Finds Korea GI's Are Letter-Writing Champs

WRITING HOME: For Sgt. Elmer Williams of Columbus, S. C., and his buddies in Korea, 1,400,000 pieces of notepaper a month.

(By NEA Service)
WITH THE AMERICAN EIGHTH ARMY IN KOREA—(NEA)—This Army is one of the "letter writing-est" ever to take the field, according to Red Cross field workers in Korea.

In January alone, the home-writing lads got away with approximately 1,400,000 American Red Cross notepaper and 900,000 envelopes. An additional 1,600,000 notepaper and a million envelopes went to hospitalized men in the same period.

But the boys could use four times as much writing material in their writing spree.

The big headache is lack of transportation as the field workers try to keep up with the demands of the fighting GIs and other UN military personnel.

The job is to get the writing equipment up front where GIs use rifle butts and foxhole rocks for writing tables. Red Cross field directors and assistants scrounge vehicles, load up and take off for advanced positions where the material is passed out. Since a jeep will hold only so much, a lot of GIs don't get paper.

Soldiers are great for precedent; and since the Red Cross is traditionally linked in their minds with items necessary for their comfort, other UN soldiers turn expectantly to the organization.

Hundreds of thousands of comfort articles are shipped to Korea and handed out to the troops, such as soap, towels, shaving cream, razors, handcloths, mirrors, hair and toothbrushes, toothpaste, combs, books, playing cards and kit bags.

During 1950 more than 6,000,000 notepaper and 3,000,000 envelopes were given to hospitalized men alone. To replenish the supply the Red Cross has shipped 10,000,000 notepaper and 5,000,000 envelopes to the Far East since July. Additional millions are on the way.

Sick Japanese Sailor Imprisoned

SINGAPORE, (AP)—The first Japanese to come ashore in Singapore since the war did so because he was sick. A Japanese sailor, 19-year-old Yoji Toyama, was taken off the 6,343-ton Japanese freighter Tatsumiya Maru.

Toyama suffered an acute appendicitis attack. Even though he was sick, he had to be treated as an enemy as no peace treaty has been signed with Japan. Now this Japanese sailor will have to remain in Outram Road prison, until he is repatriated on one of the Japanese ships which frequently pass by Singapore.

Ward Aid ..

Richard Shear, another patient-attendant, furnished evidence against Lambersky. He said he saw Lambersky bent over the bedside of the LaRoy boy about 2:45 a. m. Wednesday. When Lambersky noticed someone was watching him he turned and walked to a window, Spear said. He testified Lambersky had choked other patients though no severe-ly.

Found Under Clothing

Elmore testified that the body was found under the bed clothing and that the dead boy was lying with his arms folded over his chest. Following testimony by Lambersky, Dr. Maloney resumed the stand and said death could have occurred if Lambersky used the heel of his hand instead of choking with the fingers. He said the heel of the hand would act like a rolled towel and leave no marks. Scratches on the youth's throat were believed to have been caused by his own finger nails while fighting the hand that choked him. Particles of flesh were found under the dead boy's finger nails. Dr. Maloney added that if the LaRoy child was in a weakened condition much less force would have been needed to kill him.

The LaRoy youth was admitted to the hospital in June, 1950, as an epileptic. He was committed from McLean county. Lambersky was admitted Oct. 26, 1938, from the circuit court of Cook county, juvenile division, as feeble minded. Logan Page, 830 North Dixon avenue, supervisor at the hospital, said he received a call on the death at 3:05 a. m. He called Dr. Edith Cherny, officer of the day. After investigating she called Dr. Tarnawski who got in touch with Coroner Robert Preston and State's Attorney Pires. Members of the jury were Horace Hartman, E. S. Rosserans, Walter Trautman, D. B. Bowles, N. F. Richardson and J. H. Bradford.

Shoot Down 5, Damage 15 in Korean Battle

Russian MIGs Jumped After Attack on B29s

U. S. 5TH AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, KOREA, (AP)—American war planes shot down five Communist jets, probably destroyed two more and damaged 15 today in two swirling northwest Korea air battles. All the American planes were reported safe. In the biggest jet battle in history, 80 Russian-type MIG-15 jets swooshed across the Yalu river

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Truman is determined that United Nations bombers stay away from Manchuria and China at this stage of the Korean fighting, lest attacks on Red bases touch off a general war.

In his radio address last night explaining why he fired Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Truman declared the "bomb line" must remain at the Yalu river boundary between North Korea and Manchuria—unless the Communists themselves compel other action.

from Manchuria and attacked about 40 American Superforts. The big B-29s were bombing Yalu river bridges. Seventy-two American jets flying cover for the Superforts zoomed into the battle.

The swift jets streaked through the skies, snarling and spitting bullets at each other. Lt. Gen. Earle E. Partridge, Fifth air force commander, reported this score: Two MIGs shot down, two probably destroyed, 13 damaged.

(In Tokyo, the Far East air forces said some MIGs broke through and ran into heavy fire from the B-29s. Superfort gunners shot down one Red jet and damaged another, headquarters said. It added: Two Superforts were damaged but landed at Korean airfields.)

The second air battle flared late Thursday in the center of "MIG alley" between Sinuiju and Sinanju when 15 Communist jets attacked 12 American Sabre jets. The F-86 Sabres shot down two Red jets and probably destroyed another. The planes fought for 15 minutes at altitudes ranging from 34,000 to 4,000 feet.

Although the first dogfight today was the biggest in history in numbers of planes, F-86 Sabres last Dec. 22, shot down six MIGs and destroyed another.

Ice Cream Bait For Youngsters in Safety Program

Dixon junior chamber of commerce members are offering ice cream as bait for Dixon youngsters to get their bikes equipped with scotch safety lights.

The ice cream will be handed out to youngsters who bring their bikes to be equipped with the safety lights to Hey Brothers garage, 424 First st., or to the Dixon Armory garage 1 to 4 p. m. Saturday.

Scotch lights are pieces of brilliantly reflective tape which reflects lights from any possible angle. Jaycees members feel that by equipping bicycles with this material, they can cut down the possibility of night accidents involving bicycles.

The Jaycees have set aside April as safety month. Drivers may obtain safety booklets provided by the Jaycees at all Dixon garages, filling stations and auto dealers.

idea. Kerr said that instead of letting MacArthur tell a one-way story, the dismissed Far Eastern commander should go before the senate and house armed services committees.

Wants Mac Questioned "There," said Kerr, "he will be free to talk but at the same time members of congress will be free to question and examine him."

Mr. Truman's action in relieving MacArthur of his Far Eastern commands touched off some of the bitterest debate in congress in many a year.

Senator Jenner (R-Ind) demanded impeachment of the president, and there was a round of applause from the packed galleries.

However, Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) said Republicans actually are giving no serious consideration to impeachment. He noted it would take a two-thirds vote of the senators present to put impeachment across, and added:

Blocked By Demos "The Democrats are in the majority and I doubt the party line would break on that side."

Another Republican senator, who asked not to be named, said the GOP leaders made it known they had discussed impeachment "just to try to throw the fear of God" into the administration.

At a party meeting last night, house Republicans unanimously agreed to back their leaders' proposal for a full investigation of American foreign and military policy. Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the senate Republican policy committee, said all 47 GOP senators will meet Monday to discuss the firing of MacArthur and related matters.

Bartender Fined $100, Placed on Year's Probation

A Lee Center man who works as a bartender in Dixon and who evidently appreciates his own art was fined $100 and costs in county court Wednesday afternoon and granted one-year's probation on a drunken driving charge.

Following a guilty plea to Judge Grover W. Gehant, Charles C. Chesley asked for probation. Judge Gehant called in Judge Helen Rutkowski, Oregon, to decide the matter. Chesley was granted probation on the grounds that he must refrain from drinking for one year. He was granted the right to use his car to drive to and from work.

He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff John Stouffer six miles south of Dixon on Rt. 52 Tuesday afternoon.

School Board Names Judges For Election

Board of education members of school district 170 meeting last night appointed John Culley, secretary of the board, as judge in Saturday's school district election in the high school polling place.

The board also approved installation of a centrally controlled public address system at the high school.

A. H. Lancaster, superintendent of schools, and B. J. Frazer, principal, recently inspected a similar system at Spring Valley. The loudspeaker system will be installed on a rental basis. There is no obligation to buy if the system does not prove suitable, the board said.

Other judges named besides Culley were George Knouse for the South Central school poll and Dr. Sterling Stackhouse for the Lincoln school poll. Voting on new school board members and on the $1,600,000 bond issue to build two new grade schools will take place from noon to 7 p. m. The board set its organizational meeting for 7:30 p. m. next Wednesday.

Screen Writer Names Two as Red Members

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Screen Writer Richard J. Collins said today that writers Ring Lardner, Jr., and Budd Schulberg were members of the Communist party in Hollywood 10 years ago.

Calmly, matter of factly, the 36-year-old Collins told the House Un-American activities committee of his own service with the party and of others who he said were active in it.

He told the committee it was Schulberg, "or it might have been Ring Lardner, Jr.," who was instrumental in getting him into the party in 1938.

Collins said he drifted away from the party in 1947 after attending "close to 5,000 hours of meetings."

"That's enough for a lifetime—I don't think I'll have to go to any more," he added—and he smiled faintly.

Schulberg hit the best seller list with his novel of Hollywood life, "What Made Sammy Run."

Lardner, a screen writer and magazine author, was one of the "Hollywood 10" cited for contempt of the committee in the 1947 hearings into Hollywood Communism.

Lardner was sentenced to prison for his refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activities.

Seeks Second Divorce from Same Husband

Mrs. Shirley Mae Biagioni, Dixon, charges her husband, Raymond Biagioni, threw a pack of cigars at her, striking her on the temple in a divorce complaint filed late Wednesday with Circuit Clerk John O. Shaulis. She charges Biagioni with extreme cruelty.

An earlier divorce was granted Jan. 6, 1950, but they remarried June 17, 1950, according to court records. Mrs. Biagioni also alleges her husband has struck her and twisted her arm.

They have no children. Merrick and Merrick represent the wife.

Autos Collide Here Wednesday

Autos driven by John Hoyle, 64, Rt. 4, Dixon, and Charles J. Brush, 34, Rockford, collided at First street and Highland avenue at 1:25 p. m. Wednesday, according to a report made to police. Hoyle was driving west on First street and Brush was proceeding south on Highland prior to the crash, according to the report.

British Author Stackpole Is Dead at 88

SHANKLIN, ISLE OF WIGHT, (AP)—Henry De Vere Stackpole, 88, regarded as one of Britain's most distinguished spinners of romantic tales, died here today.

Author of "The Blue Lagoon" and "An American at Oxford," he saw many of his stories achieve wide popularity in screen adaptations.

A prolific writer, he turned out from 1910 onward, an average of a book a year until 1947.

He was the son of an Irish clergyman. His first wife died in 1934. Four years later, at the age of 71, he married her sister.

Winter Wheat Shortage Ends India's Hopes

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Administration leaders conceded privately today that a cut in winter wheat prospects has just about killed their bill to give drought-stricken India 2,000,000 tons of grain.

The bill, approved by the house foreign affairs committee at the president's request, has been bottled up in the house rules committee since early last month despite a renewed plea from Truman for early action.

PARIS—(AP)—A French government official said today the mystery battalion which invaded northwest Indochina in Chinese Communist uniforms were "bandits of no political significance."

He said the troops, numbering about 500, could be deserters from the Red Chinese ranks.

MacArthur Gets Invitation to Visit Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, (AP) — The president of the Milwaukee chamber of commerce yesterday promised Gen. MacArthur a warm welcome if he returns to the city he calls home.

In a telegram, Paul A. Pratt invited the general to come home "to address and be welcomed by your fellow citizens who hold you in loyal esteem and affection."

"Your return would be the occasion for our sponsoring a civic celebration befitting the years of devoted and distinguished service you have rendered our great nation."

MacArthur, whose grandfather and father lived here many years, calls Milwaukee his legal residence, although he was born in Arkansas.

Truman Now in Seventh Year

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Harry S. Truman today begins his seventh year as president of the United States. Truman stepped up from the vice-presidency six years ago when Franklin D. Roosevelt died on April 12, 1945.

PRESENTING—JIMMY CAMPBELL and his band! Those of you who attended last year's Home Show will remember him well. To those who haven't heard Jimmy's band we offer condolences—and urge you catch these top performers Friday night. Better and more melodious than ever before (if possible). Friday only!

Take our word for it, Jimmy plays a sweet sax. As leader of the band, he's the man—the one that'll bring you music and lots of it. If you can't make it at 7:00, see Jimmy at 9.

B-O-I-N-G! Which is just another way of saying vocalist Christine will be there. Music lovers had better get seats early, for that front row is going to be plenty crowded.

Jim Brady—novelty man and drummer deluxe. He's got an act using two spoons that is a true show stopper. Whatever Brady does, you are assured of one thing; it'll be lively entertainment.

PRESENTING—"THE BUDDIES OF THE AIRLINES"! From radio station WHBF come these three madcap entertainers. They can play the music straight . . . or gag it up. Saturday, the last night, the "Buddies" will cap the Better Home Show. If it's fun you want here it is in this zany gang, the "Buddies of the Airlines"!

Pat Maynard is a skilled pianist having his own program, "Etchings in Ivory." He's also musician in WHBF's "Dream Time" and "Memory Lane". The company he keeps, though, can lead to riotous musical shenanigans.

Another of the gleesome threesomes, Speed Froman, who sings and plays the guitar for the "Buddies of the Airlines". Speed is no slouch at laughs or skill, so watch for him.

Curly Bray, whose attention seems to be wondering, is the bass man. He completes the Buddies, each of whom is a one-man show. Put them together and . . . well, come out Saturday and see for yourself!

Dixon Area Trackmen Stretch Legs on Friday

Browns' Garver Shows Cards No-Hit Stuff

HOUSTON, Tex., (AP)—There's little question about it now—Ned Garver is the St. Louis Browns' best pitcher.

Last night he hurled eight hitless innings to blank the St. Louis Cardinals 1-0. Lou Sleater then completed the no-hitter by hand-cuffing the Redbird batters in the final frame after Ned went out for a pinchhitter.

It wasn't a perfect eight innings—three walks, a hit batsman and an error by a teammate put Redbirds on base. But only three Cardinals hit files to the outfield and the closest bid for a base hit was from Joe Garagiola. Ken Wood backed against the right field fence for Joe's fourth-inning drive.

Garver came a long way in spring training to prove his pitching ability.

Browns Need Another
Manager Zack Taylor said all along he could win a lot of ball games if he had a couple more like Garver.

But early in the exhibition grind the righthander had the doubtful distinction of giving up 33 runs in slightly more than nine innings of hurling, scattered over several games.

After last night's game, Garver commented:

"Once I got past the first inning, I was all right. I couldn't get the ball where I wanted it. After that, I was getting the ball, particularly the curve, in the right spots. I could have pitched another inning but I was getting a little tired."

Unmoved By Fact

He appeared unmoved by the fact that he was hurling no-hit ball. He wouldn't affirm or deny that he was conscious of the fact in the late innings.

"I don't see that it makes much difference," he commented. "We won the game and played good ball doing it."

The decision to remove Garver wasn't all Taylor's.

Garver said he and Taylor agreed midway in the game that it looked like a long, drawn-out affair, so he wouldn't go more than nine innings. Taylor agreed.

When the last of the eighth came along with a man on third, one out and Garver due to bat, Taylor said: "What about it?"

He Agrees

Garver said a pinchhitter would be all right with him.

Johnny Bero was called in and produced a the game-winning double.

If it had been Taylor's decision, he probably would have left Ned in. Garver is a good hitting pitcher. He was used last year as a pinch batter several times. Occasionally he even played outfield so the Browns could have the advantage of his batting.

Garver won only 13 games last year against 18 losses. He hopes he can better that mark this season. His earned-run average was 3.39. And he completed more games than any other American leaguer except Bob Lemon of the Cleveland Indians. Both finished 22 contests in 1950.

Doubles Lead Changes in ABC Tourney

ST. PAUL, (AP)—For the third straight day there was a new leader in one of the three individual events in the 48th annual American Bowling Congress.

A Jackson, Minn., pair yesterday took over first place in the doubles, mainly because of the first 70 series of this year's meet, which opened Saturday.

Carpenter Nails Pins

Glen Olson, 23 year old carpenter, tossed games of 248, 243 and 220 for a 711 series as he and his partner, John Cirhan, 41 year old insurance man, moved into the top rung in the doubles. Cirhan added a 557 series to Olson's 711 for a 1,268 total.

This was the first ABC for both Olson and Cirhan and the 711 was Olson's first 700 series in four years of bowling.

The greatest number of changes occurred in the singles division, with four men moving into the top 10. John Kepers, 42, a health inspector of Calumet City, Ill., grabbed the runnerup spot with 693. He had games of 214, 234 and 245. He had a chance to take the lead, but a light hit in the tenth frame of his final game robbed him of that honor.

Minnesota Leads

Three Minnesota kегlers provided the other changes in the singles division. Oswald Thompson, 50, Benson grocer, took over fourth place with 680. Sigurd By of Alexandria moved into sixth place with a 670 total, and Melvin Frost of Le Sueur slipped into seventh with 664. That made a total of five Minnesota kегlers among the top 10 in singles.

Don Hutson, who was selected on the recent Associated Press All-Time All-American football team, tonight leads the Packer

Tug Wilson Rebukes Gambler; Official 'John Doe' Cleared

*CHICAGO—(AP)—An intensive investigation by Big Ten Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson has cleared an unidentified conference basketball official of charges of irregularities.

The 15-day probe followed testimony before the Kefauver senate crime committee March 24 in Washington by Sidney Brodson of Milwaukee, an admitted gambler and former Chicago lawyer.

Brodson told the committee and an estimated 20-30 million television viewers of suspecting an unnamed Big Ten official. He said in some games which were worked by this official, gambling pointspreads fluctuated abnormally.

Harlow Aids
Wilson, in announcing results of the probe yesterday, said his office was aided by Bill Harlow, conference supervisor of officials, an independent investigating firm of former FBI men, and members of a Chicago law firm handling conference legal matters.

Wilson said he had been advised that the official in question has caused for legal action against Brodson.

In one of his harshest statements since becoming commissioner, Wilson said he found it "repugnant that man who bets thousands of dollars on the outcome of a contest should be in the position of doing irreparable damage to reputations by his 'suspicions' or opinions."

Brodson Rebuked
Wilson rebuked Brodson with the comment that "one man—an admitted gambler—was able to place a cloud over every man on this (Big Ten's 25 officials) staff . . . nothing that we can do probably will ever catch up with the off-hand remarks he expressed."

Wilson said direct contact during the investigation was made with:

1—Brodson, in an effort to obtain every possible shred of evidence to substantiate his 'suspicions'; 2—The unnamed official; 3—Three other prominent gamblers of this area, one of whom was well acquainted with Brodson and apparently was the source of much of Brodson's 'suspicions'; 4—Officials who worked in particular games with "John Doe" during the past two seasons.

Reports Studied
Game-by-game reports from the officials and coaches in these games were reviewed and films of them were studied.

These conclusions were reached in the investigation:

1. Brodson had surprisingly little evidence to support the 'suspicions' which he expressed.
2. Other gamblers contacted did not agree with Brodson's views.
3. "It is obvious that bookmakers and bettors are acutely suspicious people by nature of their profession."
4. "It is not uncommon for a better, having once privately handicapped a game by his own system, to feel that something corrupt was associated with the contest if it did not result reasonably close to the point difference he had figured by his particular system."

"5. And finally, it is definitely concluded that 'John Doe' is not guilty of any of the irregularities 'suspected' by Brodson."

Northern Illinois Sportsmen Start Trout Angling Today

SPRINGFIELD, (AP)—Trout aren't native to Illinois but sportsmen of nine northern counties will get a chance to catch them today.

State fisheries employees will dump from 1,000 to 15,000 rainbow and German brown varieties this week. The trout season opened April 1 and lasts through September.

They'll go into the state's cooler,

1,200 TO LEE COUNTY

"About 1,200 Rainbow trout are being released this week in Lee county pits, creeks and streams," Bill Fischer, district inspector for the department of conservation, said today.

"Practically all of these trout are of the legal size, which is seven inches," Fischer added.

The daily limit is eight, he said.

clearer and swifter streams in Jo Davies, Stephenson, Winnebago, Carroll, Whiteside, Lee, Ogle, Boone and McHenry counties.

Parr Tells Policy
Sam Parr, fisheries chief, says the choice of the planting locations isn't a matter of favoritism. It's dictated by the nature of the trout who have a hard time living in water over 70 degrees.

"There's no chance of the planting program being increased. It isn't feasible," Parr says. Trout can't stand pollution and turbidity. Even the streams in the nine counties aren't good enough trout waters to permit the trout to reproduce, he adds. Consequently, the planting program has to be repeated every year.

"We get fingerlings at the federal hatcheries, rear them to catchable size and release them.

Franklin Grove at Amboy
Walnut at Ohio
Lanark at Oregon
Mt. Morris, Mt. Carroll at Freeport
Polo intra-squad meet.

Track moves into the Dixon area prep sports spotlight this weekend as area teams stretch their running and jumping legs in competition for the first time.

Friday action will find Franklin Grove at Amboy, Oregon entertains Lanark, Ohio plays host to Walnut, Mt. Morris will travel to Freeport for a triangular session with the Pretzels and Mt. Carroll, while Polo will warm up with its annual intra-class meet before formally opening the season with Amboy on Monday.

Dixon track fans will have to wait until April 24 before they can get their first look at Coach Art Bowers' 1951 production.

Another cold, wet spring has put a general crimp into track preparations in the Dixon area. Except for one or two days of decent weather, practice sessions have been confined almost entirely to the high school gyms.

While the gym is useful for conditioning purposes, it serves as a poor substitute for the outdoors for good track preparation, according to all coaches.

Ike Williams

Williams Returns To Training for May Title Fight

CHICAGO, (AP)—Ike Williams today began a rigid training grind to shed 10½ pounds before risking his lightweight crown against James Carter in New York May 11.

He probably will find much more trouble reducing to the 135 lightweight limit than he did last night in taking a unanimous 10-round decision from welterweight Fitzie Pruden.

Williams' manager, Blinky Palermo, said Ike is ready to go for the welter title and will meet the winner of the Johnny Bratton-Kid Gavilan bout in Chicago after fighting Carter.

Ike weighed 145½ last night, the same as Pruden, the durable Canadian. Only 2,897 spectators turned out for the Chicago Stadium show and the gross gate was $9,649.

The 23-year-old Pruden bled profusely from a cut over his right eye from the third round on. And Ike, too, became a reddish mess from a cut left eye and a slit on the inside of his lip.

FIGHTS

CHICAGO—Ike Williams, 145½, Trenton, N. J., outpointed Fitzie Pruden, 143½, St. Catherine's, Ont., 10 (non-title).

MIAMI BEACH—Danny Nardicio, 171½, Tampa, stopped Nick Barone, 178½, Syracuse, 10.

Feller's Stock Takes Jump After Impressive Game

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., (AP)—Bob Feller's pitching stock was the highest today since the Cleveland Indians started their exhibition season.

The veteran righthander hurled a smooth seven innings against the New York Giants at Atlanta, Ga., yesterday, for his first really outstanding performance of the year.

Bob Fanned seven men, three of them in order in the seventh. He granted only six hits—three of them infield scratches—and he walked just one player.

HUGH'S VIEWS of SPORTS

By HUGH HUGH

In these spring training days when injuries to athletes, real or imagined, are so much in the headlines, it is interesting to ponder the remarks of a man who makes his living nursing athletic bumps and bruises—in this case, Hugh Burns, Notre Dame trainer, who visited this area last week.

BURNS CLAIMED HE CAN almost tell by the feel of the muscles when a Notre Dame boy is ready to give his best.

"Call it physiological or psychological," said Burns, who often talks like a medical professor. "But I can tell when a boy is going to be right."

"OTHER TRAINERS have told me the same thing," Burns continued. "A boy can be tense all week in practice and then on the weekend he snaps out of it and I know he's ready. Of course, we like to see the whole team do that, but it doesn't happen that way very often."

Until last season, many observers argued that "it happened that way" too often at Notre Dame to insure good health among members of opposing teams.

WHEN LEROY (Sticks) Morley spoke at Ohio recently he confessed to a baseball sin equalled by few who have played the game.

"I once struck out three times in one inning when I was playing baseball at Bardolph high school," he said. "I believe it's still a record."

"Fortunately I was able to remain on the team. (My father was on the school board.) So the next week I made the trip to Prairie City when we played there."

"It was at Prairie City that I suffered my worst humiliation," he continued. "I went in to pinch hit in the sixth inning and reported to the umpire."

"THE UMP DIDN'T even look at me. He just turned around and announced to the crowd, 'Morley now batting for exercise.'"

Yes sir, these coaches have a million of 'em.

AT THE SAME BANQUET, Ohio Coach Chuck Vail termed Ohio such a basketball mad town that if the Bulldogs should ever be fortunate enough to go to the state tourney "we would have to hire someone from Walnut to watch the town."

Dixon football coach Sam Owens reports that he made the trip to the Purdue football coaching clinic again last weekend.

"THAT'S ABOUT THE eleventh time I've been there," Sam said. "It's the best clinic in the country, I think."

One of the headlines doing the teaching at West Lafayette was Bert Ingwersen, the Illini line coach whom many call the best in the business.

The only mar on the Purdue program, Sam said, was the rain Saturday that flooded the stadium and practice fields and forced the cancellation of the practice game slated for that afternoon between two Purdue squads.

BILL KRUG, A FORMER DIXONITE, attached a "hello" note to one of the Chicago Cubs publicity releases from Catalina Island recently.

"I've been helping stuff and seal these envelopes for the past month, so I thought I would say hello to the hometown paper," the note said.

TV Football On Spot Basis Seen Next Fall

NEW HAVEN, Conn., (AP)—College football probably will be televised on a selective basis next fall while the colleges take soundings to find out the effect on attendance.

The National Collegiate Athletic association TV steering committee evolved a plan which now goes to the NCAA national committee under which one game would be televised each Saturday in each national area.

The announcement by the committee cleared up uncertainty that developed after the NCAA called for a moratorium on football television.

Need Gate Cash
The colleges made it plain they must maintain football gate receipts to keep their athletic programs going.

"Live television has apparently had a serious effect on game attendance, and the loss of such attendance can only result in the loss of the vital financial support for the entire program of physical training and competitive athletics," said Tom Hamilton of Pittsburgh in his statement on the TV proposal. He is chairman of the TV committee.

College games were widely televised last fall, and some people blamed TV for a decline in gate receipts. It was argued that small college games in particular were hit by the network coverage of such famous teams as Notre Dame, Pennsylvania, and Army.

Politics Gets Issue
After the NCAA called for a curb, the issue bounced into politics. Bills were proposed in Illinois and Oklahoma requiring the state universities to televise their games.

The universities replied that under the NCAA mandate other colleges would refuse to play them.

Adoption of the proposal by the NCAA national committee seems certain. Probably this arrangement will satisfy the justice department which raised the question of possible anti-trust law violation if television were shut off completely.

Rizzuto to Start In Yank Opener

BALTIMORE, (AP)—Shortstop Phil Rizzuto—sore side and all—will be in the starting lineup when his New York Yankees face Washington Monday in the American league season opener.

And Yankee pitchers Allie Reynolds and Joe Page do not need surgery on their ailing flippers.

Dr. George Bennett, Johns Hopkins hospital surgeon, looked over their ailments and told them they could play.

it to 35-33 at the half, and knotted it 57-all once, but couldn't match the Collegians closing spurt.

Garrett with 16 points and 6-foot-11 Jim Slaughter from South Carolina with 17 led the Stars' scorers. Goose Tatum counted 19 for Harlem.

The crowd totaled 10,034.

Garrett Sparks Stars to Win Over Trotters

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Indiana's Bill Garrett stole the basketball from a Harlem Globe Trotters' ace and sparked the College All-Stars to a 74-66 victory last night.

It was the Stars' third win against seven losses on the 18-game tour. They play in Salt Lake City tonight.

With the Trotters apparently heading toward victory No. 8, Marques Haynes went into his crowd-pleasing dribble while kneeling. Garrett stole the ball, sped down court and scored.

That pulled the Stars within one point of a tie and they went on to take a 10-point lead. Harlem cut

The Women's Wednesday afternoon league is holding its banquet Tuesday, May 15 at the Legion hall. In the no-tice received no time was given, but we suppose the league members know. The craze at present is for an easy lift ball, some of the dealers buying new ones and others having their old ones re-drilled. Since Orr Smith started off with two 10 games Tuesday night with a re-molded apple, we're almost willing to concede that finally they have some-thing. Four of the bowlers with new ones are Dale Sennett and Ed Worley. Both of whom have been hovering around the 500 mark since they've been using them, and Helen Dodd and Eleanor Lamb, both coming up with better than their average totals in yesterday's league play. Joe Miller, entered in the singles and the double with Leo Miller at the ABC, has told us to be prepared to step into his place, as he may not be able to make the trip. That's O. K. with us but we don't know what Leo thinks of it, and perhaps we shouldn't ask him. We don't know how Don Raymond found out we men-tioned him as one of the absentees for a week ago last night, when they had to forfeit three to Valle's, as he was far away, being called south on business, watching the Masters golf tourney. But anyway Don tells us he is only sixth man on the Harcos and we left out Mark Keller, who failed to show that night, so we owe Don an apology. Shot of the week was Cecil Wor-ton picking up the 6-7-10 split Sunday night on alley, which wins her a necktie from Hank Henry, a reward for Eph who wasn't there, being busy with the turkey at the Reynolds Wire banquet. There's more close races for the crowns in the league plays this year than usual, with four or five of the loops coming right down to the finish with the lead hanging in the balance. We might remind the girls again to get their entries in for the Woman's City Association tournament as soon as possible. This is run off the same time the men's tourney is going on, and is at the lanes this season. Bess McConaughy is making an effort to get a large field in the doubles and singles, and asks that the entries be turned in to her as soon as possible.

Irvin Looks Good In Cleanup Role

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., (AP)—Monte Irvin, Negro first baseman of the New York Giants, is filling the role as cleanup hitter brilliantly.

Irvin whacked out a single and double yesterday to stretch his hitting streak to 20 games. Irvin's stickwork was wasted as the Giants lost to Cleveland, 5-4.

SOX IN SHAPE

MEMPHIS, (AP)—The Chicago White Sox' success on the Grapefruit circuit can be attributed to the team's conditioning program, says Coach Doc Cramer.

"Every one of our boys is in condition, and that's the big reason we have done so well in spring training," he said. "Look at some of the other clubs—they're hog fat. We get a little work every day, pitchers especially. Even have afternoon workouts before night games. Then if we miss a day later we're still in condition."

LIPON SNAPS BACK

BIRMINGHAM, (AP)—A bright spot comes up for the Detroit Tigers now and then. Shortstop Johnny Lipon has come out of a batting slump. He smashed a double yesterday after going hitless in 17 straight times at bat.

Russian Film Representative Gets Jail Term

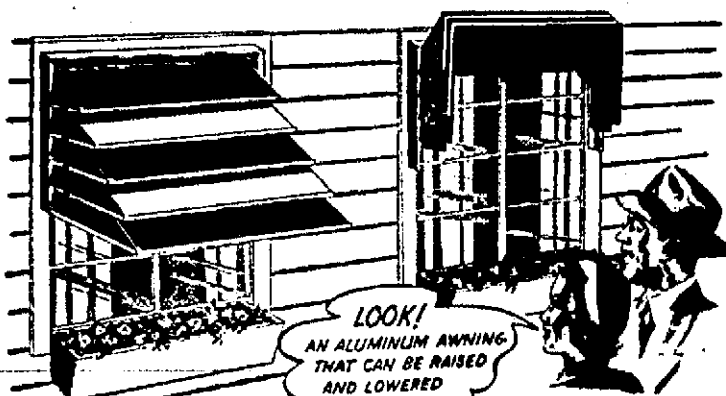

CHICAGO, (AP) — The U. S. court of appeals yesterday affirmed an 18-month jail sentence for Irwin Franklin, 51, representative of a Russian film agency.

Franklin was convicted by a federal court jury in May, 1950, on charges of misrepresenting himself as a citizen and failing to register as an alien during the war. He was sentenced to 18 months in jail for failure to register.

Franklin is midwest representative of Artkino Pictures in Chicago.

The government contended Franklin was born in Russia, came to the U. S. as a child and never took out citizenship papers.

Some Retail Brackets Have Banner Month During March

NEW YORK, (AP)—The five-and-dime stores, the women's apparel chains and the big mail order houses have just completed a banner month—at a time when department and appliance stores were trying hard to whittle down their inventories.

Chain stores of the five-and-dime variety made a particularly impressive showing. In some instances dollar volume of sales for the month was up more than 30 per cent from March a year ago.

By contrast, dollar volume of department store sales was up only seven or eight per cent, while unit sales were slightly behind the March, 1950, total.

Here Are Some Answers. There may be several interesting answers.

In the case of the novelty chains, the obvious one is Easter, which came early this year.

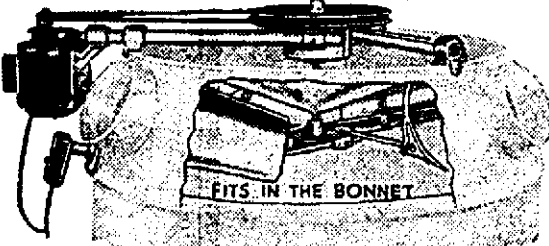

But there were other factors. Retailers make the point that some of the very influences that depressed department store sales had exactly the opposite effect on the chain store business.

Boom Loses Bloom. It's common knowledge that the big post-Korean boom in retail selling lost its bloom because people over-bought last year, and then the shortages everyone expected failed to develop. Right now, in the words of one prominent steel industrialist, warehouses in many cities are "bursting with refrigerators, household appliances, TV sets and other hard goods." It's the same story in the dry goods business.

While credit curbs and leaner bank balances may have temporarily slowed department store sales, five-and-dime merchants tell of increasing patronage from Park avenue matrons.

Catalog Entices
A bargain-wise public is also showing continued interest in the enticements of the mail order catalog. Sears, Roebuck—world's biggest reailer of general merchandise—reports March sales of $215,000,000—up nearly 18 per cent over March a year ago.

But retailers feel that in the weeks ahead, a normal balance will be restored, with the department, furniture, appliance and dry goods stores closer to their customary strong position.

Wrong Birthday

HAMBURG, Germany, (AP)—Mrs. Marie Schuett of nearby Oberdorf recently became 101 years old and learned that for the last hundred years she has been celebrating her birthday on the wrong date.

She had always celebrated on March 22, but records of the registry office showed she was born March 20, 1850, so she switched her celebration.

State Senate—Condemns HST For Dismissal

SPRINGFIELD, (AP) — The Illinois senate adopted a resolution yesterday criticizing President Truman for removing Gen. MacArthur.

Approved by the Republican majority over Democratic protests, the resolution expressed "unqualified confidence" in MacArthur and condemned the "irresponsible and capricious action of the president."

The house, also controlled by Republicans, voted to incite MacArthur to address the legislature on Asiatic problems and world peace.

Democrats defended the president's action. Senator William J. Lynch (D-Chicago) said it was a "display of great courage."

"The president knew he would bring down on himself great criticism," Lynch said during the lively debate. "He put his country before politics."

Senator Edward E. Laughlin (R-Freeport) asserted that the resolution amounted to a "vote of lack of confidence" in the president.

"I'm sorry to say this doesn't urge impeachment of a man in whom we have no confidence," Laughlin declared.

Senator James W. Gray (D-East St. Louis) said MacArthur "should have been removed long ago."

Senator William Walsh (R-Chicago) assailed Secretary of State Dean Acheson, calling him the "striped-pants cuttlefish who has torpedoed MacArthur."

Red Korean Radio Comments on Mac

TOKYO, (AP)—The Red Korean radio tonight announced the firing of Gen. MacArthur with the comment:

"His responsibility for consecutive defeats and his conflicts with United Nations members at last touched off the explosion. Out goes the man who led the American imperialistic invaders to Korea and incurred the wrath and hatred of all Koreans."

A British Thermal (BTU) is about the amount of heat generated by burning all of a wooden safety match.

Argument Over Mac's Dismissal Ends in Stabbing

DAVENPORT, Ia., (AP)—An argument over the Truman-MacArthur issue resulted in a stabbing incident here last night.

Captain of detectives Harold A. Thorsen said Rufus Gardner, 53, was stabbed once in the left chest with an ice pick by his stepson, Erskine Johnson, 21. His condition is reported as not serious.

Johnson is being sought by police.

American farms produced about $30 billion worth of produce in 1950.

Natural gas is being used from wells in at least 26 U. S. states.

Feed Grain Stocks Down 29 Per Cent

SPRINGFIELD, (AP)—The Illinois winter wheat crop will run about 36,000,000 bushels, a third larger than last year, the state-federal agriculture departments said today.

The report said farm stocks of feed grains on April 1 were 25 per cent smaller than a year ago. The totals include 200,000,000 bushels of corn, 55,000,000 bushels of oats and 11,400,000 bushels of soybeans.

The late spring has delayed farm field work and growth of all grains.

What is believed to have been the first natural gas well in the United States was drilled in 1821 at Fredonia, N. Y.

OBITUARIES

MRS. SAM STROUP
Funeral services for Mrs. Sam Stroup, a former Lee county resident, were held last week at Mallard, Ia.

Mrs. Stroup was the former Edith Yocum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Yocum. She was married to Sam Stroup at Compton. She and her husband received the first marriage license issued from the present Lee county courthouse.

Survivors include two brothers, Harry Yocum, Ashton, and B. F. Yocum, Franklin Grove.

Mrs. Stroup was a member of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Harry Yocum, Ashton, and Mrs. B. F. Yocum and son, Dale, Franklin Grove, attended the funeral.

MRS. WALTER HORST
MT. MORRIS — Mrs. Walter Horst, 56, died Wednesday in Deaconess hospital, Freeport.

Mrs. Horst, the former Mary Augusta Schnulle, was born Nov. 28, 1894, in Mt. Morris, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Schnulle. She was married Sept. 9, 1930, in Mt. Morris. She was a life-long member of the Trinity Lutheran church and an active member of the Home Bureau.

Mrs. Horst is survived by her husband, Walter, Mt. Morris; a son, Richard, Carthage college; two daughters, Mrs. Robert Yetter, Hamilton, and Mrs. Royce Devick, Warsaw; two brothers, Henry and Ed, Polo, and four sisters, Mrs. Fred Reiken, Mrs. Joe Strife, Mrs. George Neher and Mrs. Ralph Koper, all Mt. Morris.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Trinity Lutheran church, Mt. Morris, with the Rev. Alfred H. Stone officiating. Burial arrangements are being made. The body is at the Finch funeral home.

MRS. MARY OLIVE VICKREY
Mrs. Mary Olive Vickrey, 83, Princeton, died Friday in a Moline hospital after a short illness.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in the Hudson funeral home, the Rev. Robert C. Kemper officiating. Burial was in Prairie Repose cemetery, Dover.

Mrs. Vickrey, who had lived near Dover most of her life, was born at Mayville, Ky., Aug. 20, 1867, and was the former Mary Kissick. She was a member of the Hampshire Colony Congregational church and the Order of Eastern Star.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Clarence Chelin, Princeton, and three sons, David, Forrest, and George, all of Dixon.

—A panorama of Dixon area history will be presented to Evening Telegraph readers on May 1 when the 270-page Centennial edition is distributed. It will be the biggest single edition of a newspaper ever published in the midwest.

There are more geysers in Yellowstone National Park than in all the rest of the world.

New Moody Film At Bethel

Primitive tribes, strange customs and weird rites in the depths of the South American jungles are included in the latest film, "To Every Creature," produced by the Moody Institute of science, Los Angeles. The film will be shown in the Bethel United Evangelical Church, Galesburg, and Morgan Streets, Thursday (April 12), at 7:30 p. m., according to the Rev. Fred Cunningham, pastor.

Outstanding sequences in the picture reveal the brewing of masatos, a deadly liquor produced and used by the Shipibo Indians; a monkey killed, cooked and eaten; a Piro witch doctor incanting his evil and furious tribal dances. Besides, there is an interesting sequence about the use of the airplane and radio to reach these pagans with Christianity. Many subjects seen in the film have never been photographed before.

During his recent trip through the South American mission fields, Dr. Irwin A. Moon, director of the Moody Institute of Science, turned his movie camera on these dramatic scenes as he traveled in dangerous, unexplored areas of this jungle country. Typical of unusual subjects his discerning lens captured on film were the odd "square-headed" people.

One fascinating episode in the picture presents the Moody Bible Institute training of missionary technicians, who on graduation will aid missionaries with their travel and communication problems. The Institute maintains its own planes and airfield at Wood-dale, Illinois.

Students are taught to fly and maintain their planes in various climates and for various terrain. When a student goes to the mission field, he is then able to understand and cope with actual flying problems he must face in such places as the South American jungles and mountains.

ANTI-TRUST LAWS KILLED LEPKE'S BIG BUSINESS--MURDER

Combined With Stool-Pigeons They Sent Boss of Murder, Inc., to Chair

By RICHARD KLEINER

Lepke Buchalter, the boss of Murder, Inc., was a quiet man with soft brown eyes. He always dressed conservatively and had a warm smile for people he met. Everybody liked him—everybody, that is, who lived to tell about it. Buchalter made crime a big business. He had some very original ideas about crime and they paid off. He ran the rackets like a businessman. He assigned murderers like a city editor assigns reporters. He scattered witnesses like a travel agent. He was often called the "smartest crook."

But two weapons of the law tripped him up. One was a new weapon—the anti-trust laws. The other was a very old weapon—the stool-pigeon. In combination, the two sent Buchalter to the electric chair.

Actually, the police often wondered why Lepke became a criminal at all. He was born in poverty, true, but so were his ten brothers and sisters. All the others became very respectable citizens. Lepke, through school, always had good marks in conduct, attendance and school work. The only explanation for his criminal career is that he simply wanted to be a gangster, as other kids aspire to be firemen or cowboys.

When he was 18, he began at the bottom. He robbed pushcarts on New York's lower East Side. Slowly, he worked his way up to stores and offices. He was arrested for robbery four times, sentenced three. But he was learning.

He confided to his pal, "Gurrah Jake" Shapiro, that he didn't think the top racketeers in New York were very smart. They killed people indiscriminately. Lepke said he didn't believe in killing people, unless there was some profit in it. Then it was all right. In 1927, "Little Augie," the kingpin racketeer of the East Side, was blasted to death in a doorway. Stool-pigeons said Lepke, Gurrah Jake and "Little Hymie" Holtz had done the job, but it couldn't be proven. Lepke took over, and put his theories to work.

One of the biggest sources of revenue for racketeers had always been labor unions. Union bosses would hire thugs to keep themselves in power, renting enough gangland muscle to keep union rebels in line. Lepke changed the system a little—he had his strong-arm squad do the job; then they stayed in the union.

The union bosses who hired them couldn't expose them; they'd be exposing themselves. Lepke's men would gradually take over, vote an increase in dues (which went to Lepke) and control elections.

Lepke used similar tactics to infiltrate businesses. His men

WORLD'S CHAMPION SILENCER lies silent in death beside the Buchalter family plot in a New York cemetery. For Lepke, the road to the chair was paved by a stool-pigeon he didn't silence would be hired as strikebreakers, then they'd stay. They'd become foremen or vice-presidents and supervise the books. Lepke got generous cuts.

Anybody who kicked got the acid-in-the-face treatment. Few liked it. Those who were brave enough to defy Lepke's acid-throwers were "hit." That was Lepke's way of saying murdered.

In 1927, "Little Augie," the kingpin racketeer of the East Side, was blasted to death in a doorway. Stool-pigeons said Lepke, Gurrah Jake and "Little Hymie" Holtz had done the job, but it couldn't be proven. Lepke took over, and put his theories to work.

Lepke, himself, stayed quietly in the background. There were rumors about a man who ran this wholesale murder monopoly, but his name rarely got in print. He never carried a gun himself, preferring to read or play golf. His associates called him "The Judge." The Police knew about him, though, and when Gov. Lehman appointed Tom Dewey to bust the rackets in 1935, Dewey's announced aim was to get Lepke, Gurrah Jake and their ally, Lucky Luciano.

Jake wanted to "hit" Dewey, but Lepke decided that wouldn't be smart. Instead, he began a campaign to clear New York of any possible witnesses. He preferred to spirit them out of town and supply them with funds to lay low. If the witness objected, he was "hit."

One of those who objected was a clothing trucker, Joseph Rosen. Rosen's body was found riddled with bullets in Brooklyn. That comparatively insignificant murder was to cost Lepke his life.

In 1937, Dewey had accumulated enough evidence to indict

Lepke on violation of the Federal anti-trust laws in connection with racketeering in the rabbit fur-dressing industry. Lepke went into hiding. For 21 months, he stayed secluded in the underworld, directing his dwindling empire from the shadows.

But he gave himself up when public clamor over the rising murder rate—including several innocent bystanders—grew. He was convicted and sentenced to 14 years in Leavenworth.

With Lepke safely in prison, the stool-pigeons came out in force. William O'Dwyer, then Brooklyn district attorney, was able to get death sentences for some of Lepke's most distinguished killers—men like Happy Malone, Buggy Goldstein, Pittsburgh Phil Strauss and Dasher Abbandando. One of the stool-pigeons was the now-famous Abe "Kid Twist" Reles, who jumped (or fell) (or was pushed) from a Coney Island hotel room.

In 1941, O'Dwyer's prosecutor, Burton Turkus, got Lepke, Louis Capone and Mendy Weiss for first degree murder in the Rosen killing. It was the testimony of another stool-pigeon that clinched the case against Lepke. This man said he'd heard Lepke say:

"That blankety-blank Rosen is going around shooting his mouth off that he's going Downtown (which meant Dewey). He and nobody else are going down any place or do any more talking—or any talking at all."

All three were convicted. All were electrocuted. Lepke, the world's champion silencer, was silenced by a stool-pigeon.

Bad Weather, Shortage of Labor Plague Farm Program

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Food production is getting off to an uncertain start this season plagued by bad weather, insects and shortages of farm labor and materials.

This situation was pictured yesterday in an Agriculture department crop report which disclosed that production prospects for winter wheat had dropped nearly a fifth since last December.

As a consequence, the wheat crop may fall short of domestic and export requirements. That would make it necessary to use reserves of the grain which the government had hoped to save for possible future emergencies.

Other Declines
In addition to the sharp decline in the wheat crop, the department also reported that:

1. The production of milk in March was three per cent below March a year ago although consumer demand is greater.

2. Egg production in the same month was two per cent less than a year ago.

3. Farmers have made slow progress in spring farm work because of cool, wet weather in most major farming areas.

4. Meadow and pastures have been slow to start growth, thus depriving farmers of needed grass for dairy and other livestock grazing.

Grain Supplies Dip
Supplies of livestock feed grain—the raw material for meat, dairy and poultry products—were a fifth smaller on April 1 than a year ago. This decline emphasized the need for big feed grain crops this year if a high level production of livestock food products is to be maintained.

Another department report served to call attention to agriculture's labor situation. The number of workers on farms was said to be four per cent smaller than a year ago despite a 12 per cent increase in wages because of loss of hands to the armed services and city industries.

New York's East River is not really a river but an arm of the ocean.

Handell Asks Citizens' Aid In Assessment

A. C. Handell, Dixon township assessor, and his deputies today asked for help and cooperation from city residents during the quadrennial assessment of real and personal property now under way.

Handell stated it is necessary for the assessor or deputy to view all property prior to making the assessment. "This thing of saying, 'The same as last year,' is not an honest equalization to yourself or the assessor who is trying to equalize all assessments," Handell said.

Asks Cooperation
He continued, "and saying, 'My husband takes care of it,' does not give the assessor the desired information, which he must have."

The only way to get a fair evaluation "is by letting the deputy in to view the property. Your cooperation will be appreciated very much by our department," the assessor concluded.

Neither the assessor nor deputies desire to penalize anyone, but if any person refuses to cooperate by listing all personal property or to subscribe and swear to his schedule the assessor will make a list of the property to the best of his knowledge and will add 50 per cent more to that evaluation.

May Examine Person
Also, whenever the assessor decides a person listing personal property for himself or for any other person, company or corporation has not made a full schedule of property the assessor may examine the person under oath regarding the property. If the person refuses to answer questions the assessor will list the unreturned property according to his best knowledge and add 50 per cent to the evaluation. If the person being questioned swears falsely he is guilty of perjury and will be punished under law.

Deputy assessors working with Handell are Mrs. Marcia Holderman, Mrs. Edmond Pierce, Mrs. Jesse Hansen and William Mondlock. The township assessor's office is in the township building, 315 Highland av.

The first electric power station was built by Edison in 1882.

Japs' Treasure Too Expensive

TOKYO, (AP) — A move by Japanese government to purchase national treasures and so relieve their private owners of the burden of maintaining them has fallen through. The treasures are too expensive. Culture-loving Japan has a system of preserving places, objects and the like for posterity by declaring them "national treasures." The owners are made responsible for them and cannot sell, pawn or alter them.

But some owners protested against the economic burden that accompanied the honor of owning such a treasure. So the government created a culture property safeguarding committee and appropriated $60,000 for purchases. Immediately, 130 owners of treasures applied. Their evaluations totalled $325,000. National treasures vary from immense tracts of land to a tiny teacup.

The committee has announced it will accept no further offers. It noted it was not questioning the worth of articles submitted—but that they were just too expensive.

Fence 'em Out Is Malaya Way

JOHORE BAHRU, Malaya, (AP)—There's a fence being built all around the new resettlement village near Jementah. It's designed more to keep Communist terrorists out.

Two hundred families have moved into houses newly built. Other houses are under construction to accommodate a total of 400 families. This is part of the resettlement program carried out by British authorities as a corollary to the war against Communist terrorists. They are clearing areas of terrorists as fast as possible. Then new resettlements are formed—to be peopled by law-abiding, loyal citizens.

Some of these are encircled by a moat 14 feet wide. That's also designed to make it difficult for Communist terrorists to get back into the area once they have been driven out.

Advise to Worriers: Don't Worry About It

By RICHARD KLEINER

NEW YORK, (NEA)—Are you worried? Do you let minor inconveniences like wars, high prices, atom bombs and bad health upset you? If you do, here's some advice for you: don't worry about it.

The fine art of worrying has become so widespread that it's constituting a big worry for industry. They're worrying so much about worry that one big company, E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Co., devoted five pages to the subject in their employee magazine, Better Living.

The object of the article, apparently, is to get the folks at du Pont to stop worrying and start producing better. Their advice boils down to this: find out what you're really worrying about and do something about it.

To back up their idea, they use several case histories of expert worriers. The following isn't one of them, but it's the type of thing aren't his real initials; he was worried about letting people know his initials) was always

WORRIER AT WORK: When he doesn't have anything to worry about, he worries about that, too.

The Case of H. Y. H. Y. (those anything to worry about, he worried because things were going too well to last. His main worry was money. He had four children, a wife, two first cousins and a hound dog named Carefree to support. His big problem was the high cost of dog biscuits. He worried about money night and day. As a hobby, he also worried about the state of the world.

The worrying began to affect his work. He was worrying so much he couldn't do a decent day's work. So he began to work nights. That didn't help. He was about to lose his job, when he went to his foreman who set him straight.

"It's not really money that's upsetting you, H. Y.," said the foreman. "It's your health. See a doctor."

His doctor advised him to get looser shoes. That did the trick. His health improved, his work improved, his worries vanished and somebody gave Carefree a case of dog biscuits.

That's how to lick worry. The idea is that you may be worrying about something, but your chief, basic worry is something else. Analyze yourself and your problems, find out the crux of the matter, and then try to correct it. The du Pont people compiled this list of the most frequent worries:

1. Dependency—you're afraid of growing old and having to depend on family and friends.
2. Loss of love—worrying about a marriage failure.
3. Debt—that's self-explanatory.
4. Spiritual decline—concern over declining moral standards.

5. Illness—also self-explanatory.

6. Losing job—ditto.

The only trouble with that list, from a chronic worrier's standpoint, is that it may give you some ideas. Lots of people might not have thought about some of those worries, but they're dances. You can lose all sorts of sleep over number one, for example.

Another idea some worriers use is substitution. If they're spending an unpleasant night's sleep worrying about war, for example, they'll deliberately begin worrying about something less fearsome. For instance:

1. Try worrying about eggplant. Why is it so purple? Does it mean anything? How did they ever make it to taste so bad? Will it get better?
2. Another nice worry is horsefeathers. What are they? Do they come from horses that fly or birds that run? How do they taste? Why?

3. For a serious worry, consider the universe. Where does it end? When you get to the end, is there a wall or bars or a bunch of guys with spears? If there are guys with spears, who pays them? What would Kefauver say about it?

4. Some very pleasant worrying can be done on the subject of toothpaste. How do they get it in the tubes? Do they take a lump of the stuff and wrap it up in a tube, or do they take a tube and push the paste in? Wouldn't it be fun to squeeze a whole tube of it in somebody's face? How fast can that somebody run? Is he bigger than you?

There's really nothing wrong in worrying. It's just natural concern carried to unnatural limits. You've just got to catch it before it gets the best of you.

Because if you let Worry become your master, you can develop ulcers, or become nervous, or lose sleep, or get fired, or something.

Please pass the sleeping pills.

Women Barbers

PRAGUE, (AP)—If everything goes according to plan, the time will come when there won't be a man barber left in Prague. The men who now work in the barber shops will be in offices or mines or factories, and women will be working in their places.

The women already have a toehold. They make up the entire staffs of three of the 1,620 barber shops in this city of a million people. The plan—in line with a broad manpower program in Communist Czechoslovakia—is to cut the number of shops to 500—all staffed by women. Girls of 15 now are being trained as barbers in a technical school.

Dixon's history will be told in the record-breaking 270-page Centennial edition of The Telegraph to be published May 1.

Polo Couple Celebrates Anniversary

POLO—Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Supinger observed their 40th wedding anniversary Sunday with open house from 2 to 5 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m. More than 125 relatives and friends from Marlon, Ind., Rockford, DeKalb, Amboy and Polo called to extend best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Supinger received many cards of congratulations and gifts, including a basket of American Beauty roses, a bouquet in a vase with amber handles, potted plants and many other gifts.

In the afternoon Mrs. R. O. Good, Mrs. C. R. Clothier and Mrs. Elsie Dissinger poured, and in the evening, Mrs. Tom Popp, Mrs. L. E. Farvin and Mrs. Euell Brodie poured. A niece, Miss Mildred McCaslin, Rochelle, assisted in serving and her sister, Shirley, was in charge of the guest book.

Woman's Club

The regular meeting of the Polo Woman's club was held at the Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon. The Rev. J. R. Uhlinger, Davenport, Ia., reviewed "Immortal Lovers." Following the program, refreshments were served.

Sick Residents

Mrs. W. J. Donaldson is confined to her home by illness. Tommie Poole, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Poole, had surgery at KSB hospital Wednesday. Thomas, William and Edward Duffey visited their brother, Ben, at West Suburban hospital, Oak Park Tuesday. His condition remains critical, following surgery two weeks ago. He is a former resident of Polo.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Walters attended the funeral of her aunt, Miss Esther Landis, at Sterling Tuesday afternoon. Miss Landis formerly lived southwest of Polo. She was 89 years old.

Canadian Slum Area Is Cleared

QUEBEC, (AP)—An unsightly slum settlement here which has attracted as much tourist attention as the provincial legislature buildings, is being cleared away by the city government.

For more than six years municipal authorities have been puzzled about what to do with the 1,000 dwellers in the settlement of former army barracks.

The city plans to tear down the huts and erect about 30 small cottages for the slum's 130 families. The new cottages will be sold to the evicted families on a low monthly installment plan.

India Visitors

NEW DELHI, (AP)—Frenchmen formed the largest single group among the 3,386 Europeans who visited India during 1950.

Home Minister C. Rajagopalachari told Parliament that of the 539 Frenchmen who visited India 38 were tourists. Others were businessmen, missionaries, dentists, artists and officials. Eighty-five Russians visited India in 1950. The home minister said that 3,892 visas were granted to Americans during the same year.

Bacon, Hominy, Fruit

A quick trip to the oven brings these bacon slices to the table, perfectly browned and deliciously crisp.

The tantalizing sweet-smoke flavor of the meat is a perfect accompaniment to pan-browned hominy and hot, canned, pineapple chunks served with it.

For a crowd or group buffet service, cook the bacon in the oven to save frequent turning and watching. Spread the slices on a wire rack in a shallow baking dish and bake in a moderately hot oven (400 d. F.) about 10 minutes or until well browned. No turning is necessary, yet the slices will be crisp and the drippings clear-colored.

Place the cooked bacon slices on a large serving tray or platter together with the hominy and fruit accompaniment. Provide tongs for the bacon and let each guest help himself to the food. Hot coffee served with this meal will satisfy.

'Peking Man' Taken to U. S., Russia Says

HONG KONG, (AP) — The bones of the famous "Peking Man," the Chinese Reds seem to think, have been taken to the United States.

These bones, of anthropological interest because of possible evidence of the existence of humans in North China in pre-historic ages, disappeared during World War II. They had been shipped from Peking shortly before the war and the Reds claim, were reported found after the war in Tokyo and "turned over to SCAP headquarters."

"All indications are that the bones were taken by the American government from a museum in Japan to America," the Communist New China News Agency says.

Many Americans collect crime and detective books. Huge libraries in this field are possessed by authors Vincent Starrett of Chicago and Fred Dannay (Elery Queen) of New York. Another large collection is in the hands of Ned Guymon of San Diego, Calif.

Red Workers Not Perfect

VIENNA, (AP) — East European Communism recognizes the need for competition in production. It does it by stimulating "Socialist contests" between workers to see who can produce most and win a medal. But the system backfires.

The Romanian newspaper "Scantela" complained recently: "In the foundry section, Comrade Ion Bene's team was listed among the outstanding ones, but it had the highest percentage of rejects. During the first day of February, Comrade Dumitru Panait's team had 20 per cent rejects from all parts cast, Carol Marc's team 16 per cent and Constantin Stoenescu's 13.0 per cent."

—More than 125 trucks and autos will be used to deliver The Evening Telegraph's Centennial edition on May 1. It will take this many vehicles to assure subscribers a timely delivery of this four-page 270-page giant edition which will make journalistic history in the midwest as the largest single newspaper ever published.

New Rosie Is No Glamour Gal

FORT WORTH, (AP) — Rosie the Riveter and Winnie the Welder are on their way back. Forty out of every 100 new workers being hired by the giant Convair B-36 plant here are women. There are now about 3,000 women among the 28,000 employees, and several hundred more are added each month. All start at $1.07 an hour for the training period.

The women workers are not glamour gals. All jewelry must come off because of moving machinery. Hair must be covered by nets or bandanas. No tight-fitting sweaters are allowed because they interfere with freedom of movement. Finally, the rule is "medium loose-fitting work slacks, ankle length."

—Evening Telegraph employees are working overtime this month to bring you the largest single edition of a newspaper ever published in the midwest. It will consist of 270 pages and will mark 100 years of Telegraph service to the Dixon community. Watch for it on May 1.

Abandoned War I Ammunition Kill, Maim Tots in Italy

ROME, (AP)—Almost six years after the end of World War II, burned and abandoned shells, hand grenades and land mines are killing approximately 1,400 Italian children annually.

The tragic deaths are recorded almost daily in Italy's press. Recently, a series of unrelated disasters took 24 lives, including 16 children, within a week. In one of the tragedies, four brothers, ranging in age from eight to 15, died in the explosion of a bomb they had unearthed in the countryside near Naples.

The succession of children's deaths has brought a wave of editorial protest in Italian newspapers and demands that the government step up its accident prevention program. As a result, a special government agency, has launched an educational program through Italian schools to warn children against the danger of buried explosives.

Ben Grauer, the radio commentator, also is a rabid book collector and a member of several bibliographical and literary societies.

Live Longer

LONDON, (AP)—Medical statistician Dr. W. J. Martin reported in a paper read to the Royal

Statistical Society that there is a higher death rate among men than women in England and Wales. He said, no satisfactory explanation for this has been found. Dr. Martin stated that it was previously thought the occupational risks were an explanation of the shorter lives of men, but "the large increase in the proportion of women engaged in industry in recent years has not affected the mortality sex ratio."

Clamor to Do Something Arises in Cities and Towns Across U. S.

By RICHARD KLEINER

If congress listens to the voice of the American people, something will be done to cure the ills uncovered by the RFC and the Kefauver investigations.

Something will have to be done, because there is a clamor for action rising from big cities and small villages alike.

This demand for a positive step is evident from a survey of workers, businessmen and housewives in large and small cities just made by NEA Service. It is also evident from the "fan mail" received by the Kefauver committee.

Almost every person questioned said the two investigations had indicated there was "widespread corruption" in government and in American life. Many of them said they knew it all along, but the investigations brought the dirty dealings out in the open.

"Anybody who has read about the RFC hearings," said James Herbert, Memphis, Tenn., rubber worker, "couldn't deny it (corruption). We know these things happen, but it takes something like this to bring it out to the people."

In a similar vein, Mrs. Earl cago tavern owner William Demas, "indicate that corruption is common, so common that the public doesn't get excited about it. Americans, especially in big cities, have become used to corruption and are almost tolerant of it."

Demas was in the minority when he said the public wasn't excited, however. While the Kefauver Committee was in New York, it averaged between 2200 and 2500 letters per day from excited readers and listeners.

Their excitement was evident from their letters.

"May the voices of the American people be heard crying in righteous indignation," wrote a Grosse Ile, Mich., woman.

"It (the hearings) makes me feel as though we have actually touched rock bottom," said a man in Waterbury, Conn.

"Ferret out this scum as Costello, Adonis Anastasia and their ilk . . . what a sad day has dawned on America." This on an unpostmarked postcard.

A letter from Philadelphia addressed to Sen. Charles Tobey of the committee read, in part: "Please forgive all the mistakes (in the letter). I am watching television, painting, cooking dinner and you have just spoke and now I am crying."

All persons surveyed were asked: "What do you believe should be done about the corruption?" The answers showed a wide selection of possible remedies.

"I think they've got to catch the ring-leaders and punish them," said the service manager of a Cleveland, O., motor car agency.

"Committees to investigate such corruption should operate in all city, state and federal governments. Criminals should be hounded and put away. Gambling should be legalized." That three-fold program came from a Chicago housewife.

"The voters ought to smite down a lot of politicians and elect better public officials," said Moses Olney, of San Francisco. "And I don't mean to suggest that either major political party has a monopoly on corruption. The public ought to insist on better candidates from both parties."

Stanley F. Wear, a Fillmore, Calif., businessman, had this suggestion: "Raise your children to be honest; be honest yourself."

An Atlanta, Ga., power crane operator thought the crux of the matter was underpaid policemen. "What kind of a man are you going to get on the police force if all you offer him is $200 a month? The taxpayers are afraid to pay a fair price for protection."

"The people are totally responsible" in the opinion of Mrs. R. Hudson Vunk of Memphis. "We have a state of apathy which provides the responsibility for gangsters in control. The investigation should continue and the proper prosecuting agencies should go on and do something."

"We need to get people in government who are good, righteous people," said a Cleveland, O., housewife.

There were, of course, dissenters to the general trend in the survey. A Binghamton, N. Y., grocer, Benjamin Mendolla, did not think either investigation had turned up evidences of widespread corruption. "I believe," said Mendolla, "everything is okay right now."

Another view came from James Blackwell, a Santa Ana, Calif., carpenter. "There is probably widespread corruption in American life," he said, "if you consider that the man who makes an illegal bet . . . is just as guilty as the men who sit back and count up the profits. But corruption takes in a lot; there are a lot of laws. I stop by the beer hall for a quick one on route home and am delayed 10 minutes. I tell the wife I was delayed on the job. I guess that makes me corrupted."

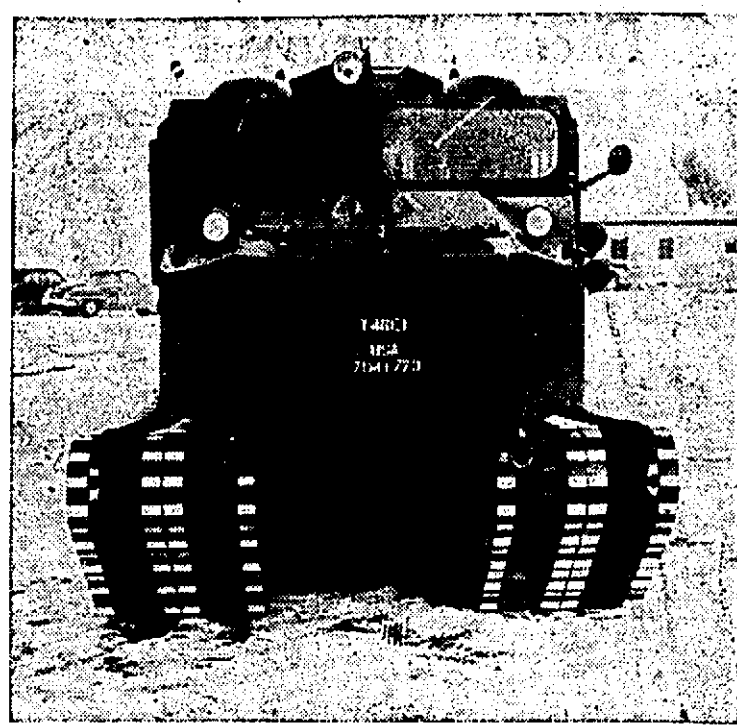

Another man, in Chicago, was asked about the RFC investigation. "The RFC investigation," he said, "shows only trouble within that organization itself." He did not think the probe proved that corruption in government was widespread.

"The RFC investigation," said San Francisco housewife Mrs. Burton K. Wines, "has disclosed favoritism, rather than widespread corruption."

Two letters to the Kefauver Committee showed that not everyone was sold on its purposes.

"The whole America listens to this investigation," wrote a New Yorker. "Most likely the whole world listens. It makes Mr. Stalin very happy." The letter-writer didn't elaborate any further.

The other critical letter singled out Sen. Tobey. "I don't think," wrote another New Yorker, "that Sen. Tobey fits your Honorable gallery. He acts as an ill-tempered N. J., who wrote:

MEET THE ARMY'S "OTTER"—At home on land or sea in any climate is the "Otter," the Army's new amphibious cargo vehicle. Run by a two-man crew and carrying its own armament, the "Otter" can make 30 miles an hour on land. It is extremely maneuverable on land or afloat, can turn completely around within its own length and in water can reverse course by use of one of its two churning treads. ## A Word-and-Picture Interview With

Rudolph Halley, Legal Comet vs. Crime

He Sees 'Terrible Danger' If Kefauver Committee Probe Isn't Followed Up

THIS IS RUDOLPH HALLEY as his opponents—and the public—see him during the Senate Crime Investigating Committee hearings, a man whose "moral sense of indignation" drove him to a job that has hounded racketeers and made him a public hero.

By ARTHUR RICKERBY
NEW YORK, (NEA) — "The terrible danger is that if there is not a follow-up to this thing, people will lose heart."

These words are spoken in a flat, unmelodious voice that has been enthralling Americans and hounding racketeers for the past few weeks, and has made a public hero out of the man behind it.

The voice belongs to Rudolph Halley, bespectacled counsel for the Senate Crime Investigating Committee, who interrupted a 10-year-plan to stick to private law practice because "my moral sense of indignation drove me to the job."

Halley matches today's matinee idol trend—huge horn-rimmed glasses, dark hair, not particularly good-looking, but a man with great personality when he's in action.

Off-stage, he is a quiet, studious lawyer, who likes to sit on the oversized bed in his New York apartment and wade through thick volumes of the testimony he has squeezed out of his often reluctant witnesses.

On-stage, in the blue-lighted committee sessions, he reminds observers of a terrier who has gotten his teeth into a bone and won't let go for anybody.

Halley calls it the "natural tenacity of a lawyer." Legal experts who watched his verbal duels with Frank Costello, William O'Dwyer and others regard this as an understatement. He sticks to a point of testimony despite all interruptions and evasions until he gets the facts he's after. At 37, he works about 19 hours a day—and put on 20 pounds during the year he's served with the Kefauver committee.

That same tenacity is the technique he'd apply to purge the nation of large-scale crime and corruption.

"Put them in jail, harass them, keep after them and never give them a moment's rest," he says.

He thinks the committee has accomplished a lot in the way of "starving the criminals out," but that it can't stop there.

"The test of a corrupt nation is whether or not we accept these conditions of crime and corruption complacently. The committee shocked the public out of complacency, but there must be a follow-up and a revival of the kind of government that gave this country its virility in the first place," Halley says in the same deliberate voice that beat down Costello's defiance.

"That, too, can be a great force in combatting Communism and Fascism. A moral awakening — a political moral awakening—can bring on another kind of moral awakening, and people will begin to realize other values.

THIS IS HALLEY as Photographer Arthur Rickerby found him in his New York penthouse apartment, curled up on the bed reading a thick volume of testimony from criminals and politicians.

"Where actual corruption in politics has been shown, the offenders must go to jail. If there is not enough legal evidence to jail them, it is the job of the press to inform the public and state, unbiassed, whether they think the officials are corrupt or qualified to hold their posts."

Comparatively unknown to the public until a few weeks ago, Halley won a legal reputation in Washington by his work as an assistant and later chief counsel of the Senate War Investigating Committee, which also put Harry S. Truman in the spotlight back in 1942.

But Halley doesn't intend to be catapulted into anything. "I'm steering a carefully planned course in my life, and I'm not the type to get pushed off in a stampede by something sudden like this," he says. "Ten days in front of the public eye is not enough to qualify for a public clamor."

Fatherless at six, Rudy Halley had a bad lisp when he was a young boy. But he spent summers at the home of his mother's uncle, a playwright, and the actors and actresses who visited there helped him master the lisp.

His "planned course" was well in hand at 14, when Halley graduated from high school, something of a prodigy. He had to wait a year to get into Columbia, and when he graduated at 20 with high honors and a law school degree, he was too young to practice.

Boy Artist, 15, Hires Dad to Work for Him

ROSS STEFAN AND PAINTING: "It's all imagination."

By WALTER BRIGGS

TUSCON, Ariz., (NEA) — At 15, Ross Stefan is more than the family breadwinner. He's hired his dad to go to work for him.

Ever since he could get his hand on a pencil, Ross has been making pictures. At first, like most children, they were just marks on the floor, the walls, or on any paper he could get his hands on.

Later, he took to crayons and paints. He began to draw men, animals and mountains. His parents were indulgent, but they didn't exactly urge him on at first.

"I knew how artists starve," says his father, Edward J. Stefan, who'd been buying advertising art all his life. "So it wasn't until I was sure Ross had real talent that I began to encourage him."

It wasn't until the Stefans moved to Tuscon about three years ago that Ross' effort began to pay off. At 13, postcard size reproductions of his western pictures were selling by the thousands.

Now his father has given up advertising to devote full time to his son's art—selling it instead of buying it.

Many of Ross' originals, such as cowboys, Indians, and mountain lions, are being displayed at art centers, fairs and banks throughout the Southwest.

Ross has never had any formal art training. A sophomore at Tuscon High School, he plans to attend the University of Arizona there. Then he'll go after an advanced art education.

He limits his work to two hours a day. At that rate, it takes him about three weeks to finish a typical picture.

Ross says he uses no models—"it's all imagination."

"I'm not trying to create any stir in the artistic world," he says. "My object's to please myself and other people."

Armed Border

NEW DELHI, (AP)—The Indian Government has issued firearms liberally in some border areas to enable the local people to cope with individual and sporadic attacks, home minister C. Rajagopalachari told Parliament.

He did not furnish particulars but said special training in the use of firearms was given to border people in some areas and arms supplied at government expense.

Parents Pick Tune

CAMDEN, N. J., (AP)—If you want to go in the children's phonograph record business, don't worry about the children. It's the parents who count.

A survey conducted at the request of the Radio Corporation of America, showed that 90 per cent of all children's records are bought by parents. The kids, incidentally, don't accompany their parents 60 per cent of the time when children's records are bought.

this entirely new way...

Just spoon out the batter

HERE'S ALL YOU DO TO MAKE NEW BATTER-METHOD SPOON ROLLS!

No kneading! You just add yeast to water, stir in mix, beat 100 strokes—then let rise.

No shaping! Simply stir down batter in about 20 strokes and spoon the batter into muffin tins. Fill cups half full.

No guesswork on rising! Rolls are ready to bake when the batter has risen to the edge of muffin cup and is rounded in center.

• NO KNEADING • NO SHAPING
• NO GUESSWORK ON RISING
• UP TO 1 HOUR FASTER • GUARANTEED RESULTS

These homemade rolls are plump, light—and very simply prepared from a batter—not a dough. You don't handle it. You don't knead it or shape it—just spoon it into the pans. ship with Federal Judge William Bondy, he was recommended for a U. S. District Attorney's post, and the Halley legal comet was on its way.

In 1945, his three-year job with the War Investigations Committee finished, he decided he wanted 10 years of private law practice. He liked the new life and when the Kefauver committee approached him, he didn't jump at the offer immediately.

When he did decide, he says, it was "because of a basic sense of indignation as anybody could find indignation aroused by the fact that gangsters and mobsters seem to have taken over influence, control and prestige in too many places."

"It was an opportunity to crack that respectable front and show these men up for what they really were. That was the tantalizing bait for the job," Halley adds.

The salary was supposed to be $17,500 a year, but Halley slashed it to $6000. He felt most of the bigger salary would go back to the government in taxes and that the committee might just as well have it to use for its work.

"I have always been able to make good money," Halley explains.

In fact, the persistent counsel

And the Crowd Came and Stayed!

IVOR, Va., (AP)—State Trooper A. O. Downing said he had never seen so many curious people before in his life. But he refused to let any of them stop on U. S. Route 460 near here after a heavy tractor-trailer truck ran off the road, overturned and struck a tree. There were no personal injuries, but the truck was badly damaged—along with part of its cargo. The cargo—headed for Alcoholic Beverage Control Board stores in the Tidewater area—was $20,000 worth of bonded whisky.

JOHORE BAHRU, Malaya, (AP)—The State of Johore has joined others in the Federation of Malaya in enforcing curfews with foodstuffs inside their own towns, villages and resettlement areas. They will not be allowed to carry any foodstuffs out of these areas. This is to make it impossible for Communist terrorists to obtain the idea of breaking up Communist terrorist activities.

The curfew imposed here means that all persons must remain indoors from 6 p.m. to 6 a.m., until further notice, unless especially authorized to be out. All persons are required to buy their essential food from these sources.

It's Hard to View Truman's Ouster of 'Mac' Dispassionately

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
The average citizen probably is finding it difficult to view dispassionately President Truman's ouster of Gen. MacArthur.
As an admirer of MacArthur's great military record, which gives him a high place among the famous generals in history, your columnist can understand the average citizen's position. Like many of my readers, I wish that the chief executive could have found some other method of solving his problem.
Did Have Problem
Still, we are bound to recognize that Mr. Truman did have a problem. This was, as he states, MacArthur's failure to give "whole-hearted support to the policies of the United States government."
That brings us to the pith of the whole controversy. Even if MacArthur disagreed militarily with his instructions, he had no right to refuse to comply, because under the constitution the president is the commander in chief of all the armed forces.
He Could Resign
But, you demand, supposing MacArthur felt sure he was courting disaster to follow Washington instructions, must he still "carry on"? No, he could express his views to the president and if that didn't work he could resign his command and return to America for a showdown.
Failure to support administration policies, however, would be dangerous and might be disastrous. Under our form of government the president and his secretary of state are responsible for foreign policies, and some highly important ones were involved in the Asiatic operations.
Distrust Created
So, even if MacArthur has been right in his military judgment, he has been wrong in not deferring to Washington. The sum and total of this imbroglio is that some distrust and discontent was created among the Western Allies, much to the gratification of Russia. Britain's reaction to the firing of MacArthur has been an expression of relief by British officials who hold that the chances for making peace with Red China in Korea have been improved. There was similar comment in much of Europe.

Appeal Court Upholds Decision Clearing Miners of Contempt

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The U. S. circuit court of appeals today dismissed the government's appeal from a decision which had cleared John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers of contempt of court in their 1950 contract strike.
The appeal court split, 2-1, in holding the case was moot, that is, no longer an issue.
The lower court's decision, by Judge Richmond B. Keach, was quickly followed a year ago by a contract between Lewis and the soft coal operators ending a 10-month dispute. It was appealed by the justice department.
Ask Union Punishment
The government asked that the union be punished for prolonging the strike after Judge Keach had issued a back-to-work order on Feb. 11, 1950. Justice attorneys argued that Lewis had given only "sham" compliance to the order when he directed to miners to get back on the job. The miners ignored the Lewis order. The government insisted that was according to Lewis' plan, too.
A three-judge panel heard the government's arguments and the union's replies last April 26. The panel included Judges Harold M. Stephens, E. Barrett Prettyman, and Charles Fahy.
Chief Judge Stephens, who wrote the majority opinion, was joined by Judge Prettyman, Judge Fahy wrote a dissent.
Action to Stand
The effect of the court of appeals' action today is to allow Judge Keach's action to stand.
District Judge Keach, in a decision March 12, 1950, dismissed both criminal and civil contempt charges against Lewis and his coal miners growing out of a soft coal strike.
The government could not appeal from Judge Keach's ruling on the criminal contempt issue, but asked the court of appeals to reverse him on the civil contempt charges.

End FEPC Hearings, Vote In Two Weeks

SPRINGFIELD, (AP) — Hearings were concluded today by the Illinois senate judiciary committee on legislation for a Fair Employment Practices commission.
The committee plans to vote within two weeks on the bill. A favorable vote would place it before the entire senate for a decision.
Spokesmen for manufacturers and the state chamber of commerce testified yesterday in opposition to the measure, which is designed to outlaw job discrimination because of race, creed or color.
Dave Clark, representing the Illinois Manufacturers Association, said the bill would set up a commission of "commissars" to enforce its provisions.
"Are we going to set up a new social crime here and handle it the way it would be handled in Nazi Germany and Red Russia?" Clark asked.
Paul Valentine of the state chamber of commerce said education is the solution to job discrimination problems.
Supporters of FEPC were heard by the committee last week.

Good Exercise

KANSAS CITY, Mo., (AP) — If he can hold out for a few more years, George R. Ross will have walked around the world—25,000 miles—just getting to and from work.
"It's two and one-half miles from my house to my job," says Ross, 75, a fireman in a boiler room for 55 years. "Using five miles a day as an average for the round trip, I figure I have walked 17,160 miles since 1939."
